Greenups surprised by effort of love

By JUSTINE WEATHERFORD

Sometimes young folks are thoughtful, generous and very helpful. Coleen and Don Greenup, Hinton Creek ranchers, were enthusiastically encouraged by their children and other family members to spend Saturday and Sunday May 15 and 16 at the two-day horse sale at Hermiston.

When they returned over Jones Hill to their large ranch home on Sunday evening, they found it had been completely repainted outside.

This great gift of love and labor was engineered by their son Greg and their niece, Sheridan Tarnasky's husband Ed. These young men recruited experienced Heppner painter Ernie Winchester as technical advisor and easily persuaded some of the many young men whom the Greenups have befriended through the years to donate labor to apply the paint, which was purchased with money donated by family and friends.

Coleen's sister, Ilene Laughlin, told of how hard the young folks worked, how they erected scaffolding, and what joy they had together at the big turkey-ham and all the fixings dinner they shared Saturday afternoon. "It was sort of like an old fashioned barn-raising party. Everyone was so eager to help, and they all worked so well together."

Neighborhood Center staff and will work with Rob Hallyburton, chief of the weatherization crew. Several homes in South Morrow Co. and fossil are now being weatherized. More information concerning eligibility can be obtained at the center.

Adult and Family Services counselor Janet Phillips will be at the Center Wed., May 26 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Applications for food stamps are available and may be picked up at the center.

Cardinal Honors is composed of juniors who have demonstrated outstanding leadership abilities in campus organizations and activities, the news release said.

Obituaries

Ella E. Smith

HEPPNER - Ella E. Smith, 77, a resident of Morrow County for many years, died Friday, May 14, 1982, at Pioneer Memorial Hospital, Heppner.

She was born Feb. 15, 1905, in Helena, Missouri, the daughter of Grant and Aura Willoughby Conway. She graduated from Redmond High School and later received her teaching degree. She taught in Central Oregon for several years. She married Hugh (Ted) Smith on Sept. 2, 1928 in Redmond. They then ranched in the Ione area until Mr. Smith retired in 1945. She was a member of the Ione Topic Club, the Heppner Bookworms, the Heppner Methodist Church and the Untied Methodist Women, where she served several terms as treasurer. She was also a member of the board of directors of the Morrow County Museum since its founding in 1958 and was the secretary of the board at the time of her death.

Graveside services and vault interment were held Monday, May 17, at Heppner Masonic Cemetery with the Rev. Michael Sheridan officiating. Ron McDonald sang adappell selections. Casket bearers were Gene Pierce, Howard Bryant, Cornett Green, Dean Gilman, Ed Dick and Dr. L.D. Tibbles.

Survivors include a son, Phillip C. Smith, of Merritt, B.C. Canada; a brother, John Conway of Ashland; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Contributions, for those who wish, may be made to the American Cancer Society.

Sweeney Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Jack Davis

GRESHAM - Jack Davis, 73, a former area resident, died at Fairlawn Nursing Home, Gresham, on Wednesday, May 5, 1982.

Mr. Davis was born March 10, 1909 in Kentucky. He came to Oregon in his late teens, settling in the Wasco and Gilliam county area. In March, 1936, he was married to Alta Baker at Mason City, Wash. They later moved from Wasco to upper Rhea Creek, where he was employed as a logger for about 20 years. He moved from Heppner to Long Creek in the early 1970's and then moved to Gresham.

Survivors include two daughters, Beulah Way, of Sandy, and Patricia Sawyer, Conn.; five grandchildren, one great grandchild, and a brother Robert Davis, of Indiana. His wife, Alta, preceded him in death in 1958.

Services were held Monday, May 10, at the Heppner Methodist Church, with the Rev. Michael Sheridan officiating. Ron McDonald, the soloist, was accompanied by Carley Drake at the organ. Casket bearers were Dale Baker, Edward Baker, Eric Graves, Mike Graves, Jim Sawyer, and Kevin Way.

Concluding services and interment were at Heppner Masonic Cemetery.

Sweeney Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.
