Three local graduates named Oregon scholars

Names of 1,647 students, including two from Heppner High School and one Ione High School graduate, have been announced as 1982 Oregon Scholars by the State Scholarship Commission. Michelle Aaron and Ann Lindsay were winners from Heppner. Diann Morter of Ione also received the honor.

Students earning this honor are selected from all high schools in Oregon on the basis of their outstanding academic achievement. Selection is based primarily on high school grade point average, with some consideration given to aptitude test scores, a news release from the commission reported.

The purpose of the Oregon

Scholars award is to give recognition to the academic achievement of students who have excelled in high school. These awards are honorary and are not related to financial assistance which students may receive. The group chosen as Oregon Scholars was selected from the 1982 graduating classes of Oregon high schools, totaling approximately 29,810, the news release continued.

Each recipient will be presented with an Oregon Scholar certificate signed by Governor Victor Atiyeh, Verne Duncan, superintendent of public instruction and Doug McKean, chairperson, State Scholarship Commission.

Combined church Bible school to begin in Heppner June 14

By JUSTINE WEATHERFORD

Heppner's Episcopal, Lutheran and Methodist churches will again cooperate in presenting a summer Daily Vacation Bible School. Registration for this five-day school will be at 8 a.m. on Monday, June 14, at the United Methodist Church.

All children from three years to sixth graders are welcome to attend. The cost for each child will be $5, or $15 for each family. Children will receive Christian instruction, enjoy recreation and games and have experiences with arts and crafts. Refreshments will be served at daily morning break times. Each child attending will receive a T-shirt transfer with the school's 1982 theme "Living In God's Love."

The material to be used by this school comes from Augsburg Publications of the Lutheran Church Publication. It is stressed that the school is non-denominational and all young children are invited to attend.

The final night's program will be held at All Saints Episcopal Church, 7:30 p.m. on Friday, June 18. Families and friends will learn of some of the work the children have done during the week and view their artistic creations. Refreshments will be served in the parish hall.

P.M.H. patio now twice its original size furnished materials and the maintenance men enlarged the patio, reported Lucky Felt, hospital administrator.

Because residents and activity groups of the hospital and nursing home wanted to have parties and hold church services out of doors on nice days, the patio was enlarged to twice of its original size, he said.

Felt said, "the new patio should be large enough for all who wish to use it at any one time."

What's Your Opinion?

Question: "How do you feel about the Willow Creek Dam being named after the late Oscar Peterson?"

"I think that's great," said Beulah Florence Heppner. "It is appropriate that it be named after him."

Cub Scout Day Camp scheduled

Cub Scout Day Camp will be held at the Morrow County Fairgrounds in Heppner, July 12-16 for any boy seven and one-half through 11 years old, announced Bobbie Angell of the local Scouting program. Cost for the camp will be $18 per boy, she said.

A tag-a-long camp will also be offered for the children of camp volunteers at a cost of $6 for the week, said Angell. Cost for the tag-a-long camp can also be determined on a daily basis, she added.

All boys presently in a scouting program that plan to attend the camp need to contact their leaders, she reported. Any boy not in scouting that would like to attend should call Angell, 676-9235 or Donna Osmin, 676-9707. All boys must register with Angell or Osmin by June 12 to attend. Any adult wanting to donate time to the camp should also contact Angell or Osmin.

Theme for the camp is Scouting Around the World. Each day will feature activities from a different country, according to Angell.

Activities will include a pine wood derby, archery, a special olympic activity, among others.

"It's really going to be fun," Angell said of the camp.

A campfire potluck dinner for scouts and their parents will be held on Friday, July 16, to wind up the camp activities, Angell concluded.

BMCC to offer golf, 4 other local classes

Golf enthusiasts will be able to get a jump on the season in a class to be offered by Blue Mountain Community College in the Heppner area, according to Nancy Brownfield, BMCC South Morrow County class coordinator.

June 17 will be the first meeting of a golf class to be offered by BMCC this summer at the Willow Creek Country Club course. The seven week course will be taught Thursday evenings from 6 to 7:30 p.m. by John Edmundson and Paul Stringer.

After the first meeting of the class, participants will split into two sections according to skill level. Twenty students are needed to hold the class. Tuition is $13 and greens fees for people who are not members of the country club are an additional $15.

Other classes to be offered in the Heppner are this summer include: aerobics, intermediate and advanced dance to fitness, expectant parents and firearms for women. All have different starting dates and interested participants should consult the summer term schedule of classes from the college.

Since the college is not mailing out the schedule this term, schedules are now available at the Ione, Lexington and Heppner grocery stores and at Murray Rexall Drugs in Heppner.

Mrs. Brownfield asks that golfers interested in taking the BMCC course contact her at 676-5039 to indicate their interest.
