Second 1982 Northeast Oregon lamb pool sells

The second lamb pool this year for Northeastern Oregon and Southeastern Washington sold on June 24. A total of 500 head of mixed fat and feeder lambs brought 54 cents per pound for fat lambs and 49 cents for feeders. Fifteen producers from Heppner, Athena, Stanfield, Pilot Rock, Echo, Pendleton, Adams, and Walla Walla, Washington gathered the 500 head in Hermiston, according to John P. Nordheim, Morrow County Extension agent.

The lambs were graded by weight and finish by Nordheim and Ted Gilliland, Pilot Rock, into two grades. Tom Watson, CZL, Hermiston, was the high bidder, with the lambs delivered July 1.

The lamb pool is sold by telephone (a Telo-Auction). The telephone livestock auction is simply a telephone conference of buyers with the auctioneer representing the producers. It helps to stimulate buyer interest in other areas of the U.S. since they are bidding on a truck load of lambs. It also helps the buyers locate and assemble lambs for their needs. This helps the local producers receive the national price, and also gives similar prices to the small producer and the large pro-

Pre-registration slated for fall term at EOSC

New students planning to attend Eastern Oregon State College this fall may pre-register during three separate sessions scheduled this summer on campus.

According to Terral Schut, director of admissions and records, students may pre-register Friday, July 9; Saturday, July 10; or Saturday, August 7. All three sessions begin at 9 a.m. in rooms 201-202 of Hoke College Center.

Any student wishing to pre-register who has not been formally admitted to EOSC should contact the admissions office as soon as possible, Schut said.

Besides pre-registering, students will have an opportunity to meet with faculty advisors, he said.

During the summer pre-registration program last year, 257 new students pre-registered. "This year we expect to have even more new students participating in the program," Schut added.

For more information, students may call 963-2171, ext. 393.

BMCC fall registration is now underway

Students planning to attend Blue Mountain Community College can start this summer to make plans for fall term, according to Pat Loughary, dean of students.

The Counseling Center is open daily at the college Monday through Thursday, from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Counselors are available on this schedule to help students with career choices and education decisions.

Students who choose to attend BMCC this fall need to complete an application form, take the college's placement test, be assigned to a faculty advisor and make a registration appointment, Loughary noted.

Placement tests are given in the Counseling Center, Pioneer Hall, daily, Monday through Thursday, at 8 a.m., 10 a.m., 1 p.m., and 3 p.m. The test costs nothing to take and is used to place the student in college classes appropriate to his or her academic skill.

Faculty advisors are assigned depending on the course of study the student wishes to pursue. Advisors help the student develop an appropriate schedule based on his or her educational and vocational goals.

Registration appointments with faculty advisors are made for registration week: Sept. 21 - 23. Students who have already completed application to the college and have taken their placement test previously may phone the Counseling Center and make an appointment. The number to call is 276-1260, ext. 205.

The advantage of completing these registration steps early in the summer is to assure an early appointment with the faculty advisor, Loughary said. Under BMCC's registration program, students must see their advisor to develop a schedule before signing up for classes.

2nd session of swim lessons to begin in Ione

The second session of swimming lessons at the Ione Swimming Pool will begin July 13, announced a pool spokesperson.

An intermediate class will be held from 10 to 11 a.m. and a swimmers class from 11 a.m. to 12 noon, she said. The lessons will run from July 13 through 16 and from July 20 to July 23.

Cost for the lessons is $3.50 per person, per session.

Anyone interested in junior or senior lifesaving classes is asked to contact Terry at the pool. Those taking the junior class must be 11 years old and to take the senior class, students must be 15 years old.

There must be at least ten students per class to hold the classes, she concluded.
