W.C.C.C. ladies play tourneys to determine champs

The ladies of Willow Creek County Club recently completed tournaments to determine club champions in match and medal plays, reported a club spokesperson. In charge of all club tournaments were Bev Gunderson and Wanda Willis.

Pat Edmundson and Bev Gunderson tied at 83 to become co-champion in the Medal Play Tournament held Thursday, August 19. Linda Shaw was second in the championship flight with an 84. In the first flight, Muriel Palmer won with an 87 and

Heppner woman's art work on display in Pendleton

Heppner artist Pauline Matheny presently has several of her oil paintings on display at Western Heritage Savings & Loan Association in Pendleton. The paintings will be shown throughout the month of August.

The subjects of her oils are mainly western art and also include Indian portraits.

Mrs. Matheny has been instructed by various professionals during the past 13 years, beginning with Dr. McDevitt, then Blue Mountain Community College art instructor. She admits her favorite instructor western artist Robert Thomas, formerly of Richland, Wash. and presently of Boise, Idaho. Thomas won the Best of Show award at Ellensburg, Washington's Northwestern Show recently. Thomas teaches and shows his art work throughout the north and southwest.

Mrs. Matheny and her husband, Orville are wheat ranchers. She says Orville is her main critic and encourages her along with the rest of her family.

Heppner Bowl will soon be offering bowling instructions to league members and for junior bowlers, announced Doug Smith, owner.

Donny Benson, will be conducting the instruction sessions which will begin September 7 for league members and for junior bowlers ages four to 21, each Saturday from 9:45 a.m. to 12 noon beginning Sept. 11 at no cost except the usual bowling fee. Junior bowlers are asked to sign up for the 17 week session prior to Sept. 11. The first few weeks for juniors will be devoted to instruction, said Smith, with league play to follow. Individual sessions will be given upon request. However, a fee for instruction will be charged.

Benson, 19, formerly of The Dalles, moved to Heppner with his wife Kimberly about one month ago. He is doing maintenance work on machinery and drilling bowling balls as well as instructing.

Benson worked at West Gate Lanes at The Dalles for one year before moving to Heppner. There he also did maintenance work, drilled bowling balls and instructed a junior league.

A certified instructor by the American Bowling Congress, Benson has been bowling for about 12 years.

Local teacher receives masters degree

Sue Zanne Duncan, a third grade teacher at Heppner Elementary, received a masters degree in education from Eastern Oregon State College on August 13.

While teaching and keeping up a home for five, she maintained a four point grade average during the time she was earning her degree.

Besides teaching third grade, Duncan is also certified to teach speech correction and remedial reading and has worked in both fields in Minnesota as well as in Oregon.

Besides teaching, she is interested in painting, drawing, and her horses.

Her husband, Bob owns Circle "D" Construction Co. and is very supportive of her endeavors, she says. They and their three children live north of Lexington.

Gunderson won the consolation division for fourth, the spokesperson concluded.
