Governor Atiyeh to be guest of honor at Lonerock BBQ

Governor Victor Atiyeh will be the guest of honor at a Lonerock Barbecue on September 2, announced Marie Rietmann of Condon, spokesperson for the event. The barbecue buffet will be held from 6 to 7 p.m. at the Lonerock annex.

Before dinner, The Grand Squares Dance Club of Ione will perform, and a tour of Lonerock will be given, she said. Sam Nichols, renowned Lonerock artist, will be displaying his work at his art gallery throughout the afternoon.

Following dinner, the governor will address the crowd and an auction will be held. Items to be auctioned include a half a hog, one-quarter beef, and an airplane tour for three over Mt. St. Helens, Rietmann said.

A blue grass band, The Bunch Grass Boys and Maryann, will provide musical entertainment until dusk.

Tickets are $6 for adults and $3 for children under 12 and may be purchased from Don and Martha Peterson, Ione, 422-7136, or at the door, she concluded.

Heppner, had to be torn out.

Toombs said an electrical inspector looked at the old hookups, declared them not up to code, and gave the Co-op 30 days to take them out.

Chamber President Bob Harris turned the matter over to the Heppner Merchant's committee for study.

Christmas lights may not burn this year in Heppner

Heppner won't have lighted Christmas decorations this year unless $3,000 can be raised to replace hookups for the outdoor decorations.

Fred Toombs of Columbia Basin Electric told the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday that the old connections, used to plug in lighted displays which span streets in Hepp-

Local 4-H'ers return from Japan

By BIRDINE TULLIS
Morrow Co. Extension Service

"It was a fantastic experience," according to Ken Curtis, Morrow Co. 4-H'er who arrived home after spending a month in Japan just in time to get his geology exhibit to county fair. "I have a great number of slides which I'm hoping will turn out well so I can share my experiences with people here at home."

Rachel Peck, the other exchangee from Morrow County to Japan, arrived home at the same time, but during her stay in Japan, her family moved to Pendleton so she has not been available for comment.

Ken will be available later this fall to tell about his trip and show his slides to any group that wishes to learn about living with a Japanese family. Groups may contact him at his home, or by calling 676-9642.

4-H'ers off to State Fair

By BIRDINE TULLIS
Morrow Co. Extension Service

More Morrow County 4-H'ers than ever before will invade the All Oregon Fair this weekend to participate in foods contests, presentations, and Fashion Revue. Dates for the local members to participate are Sept. 3, 4 and 5 for foods and presentations, with a Fashion Revue to be held Sunday, Sept. 5, at 11 a.m.

Exhibits for the All Oregon Fair were sent to Salem on August 25 and results from their judging should be arriving Sunday.

Birdine Tullis, Morrow Co. Extension staff member will serve as chairman for one of three Fashion Revues at the big state event on Sept. 1 and 2. She will be assisted by Jan Peterson, a former 4-H member who will be at state fair working in the Oregon Wheat booth, and Angie Evans, a senior 4-H member.

Another Morrow Co. woman, Julie Grieb of Lexington, is chairman of the 4-H Beef Dept.

To participate in contests at the state fair, members must have been chosen as champion, reserve, or blue ribbon state fair quality in each of the events they represent.

The following members are scheduled to attend state fair: Andrea Ball - presentation, Kimberly Hughes - presentation, Gibb Evans - presentation, Margaret Doherty - food contest, Deena Hams - food contest, Kim McCabe - food contest, Shelley Biddle - food contest, Kimberle Wright - food contest, Paula Heatherly - food contest, Diann Morter - Fashion Revue, Angie Evans - Fashion Revue, Noella Rill - Fashion Revue and Ann Evans - Fashion Revue.

At present, a number of small animal exhibitors plan to exhibit at the State Fair, but confirmations have not yet been made.

If you are including the All Oregon Fair in your Labor Day holiday plans, be sure to visit the 4-H building at the fairgrounds to see Morrow Co. exhibits there, as well as the members who are participating in the various contests.

Bird has new home in Boardman

An immature American Kestrel has a new home in Boardman with the Ernest Wade family for a while.

Byrl Stillman of the Oregon Fish and Wildlife Department found the injured bird about a month ago near the creek at Water St. in Lexington.

The bird had been shot and one of its legs was broken. Stillman and Bob Kriehn, also of the Fish and Wildlife Dept., turned the bird over to Irene Anhorn of Heppner to care during its recovery.

After it was determined that the bone had mended, the bird was taken to the Wade residence where it will stay until it is old enough to be released.

The Wades have several Kestrels living near their home and the wildlife officials think the bird will adapt well.

Fillies working hard, 1st game next Thurs.

By GLENN SMITH

With six practices left before their first game against the Pilot Rock Rockets on Sept. 9, the Heppner Fillies are working hard to make the 1982-83 volleyball season a winning year. The game against the rockets will be played at home.

Jan Terjeson, coach for the Fillies, stated "They are a pretty young team because there were not many old players returning, but they have a lot of talent and they are coming along well."

The players are divided into A, B, and C teams, A being varsity and B being junior varsity.

When asked about their upcoming game with the Rockets, Coach Terjeson commented "It will be a tough game. The team is fundamentally sound but we're going to have to work on our tactics in the coming practices." She went on to say, "Thirty seven turned out, which gives us about twelve to each team. We only had two varsity players return so the first game will be one of experience for most of them."

The Fillies will be playing in a different league this year, also facing Wheeler Co. and Condon without knowing what to expect. "Riverside is strong this year," Terjeson commented; "And Umalla also looks tough."

Despite the inexperience of the varsity team, Coach Terjeson is looking forward to a winning season with a goal of being at least, one of the top two teams in the league, allowing them to go to the tournament.

"We've got a lot of work to do and a lot of things to go through, but we have the ability to go far, Terjeson said.

Karen Howe is the J.V. coach, while both Terjeson and Howe coach the C team.

New basketball coaches named at HHS

Brent Eggers

Heppner High School basketball players will be under the direction of new coaches this year. Brent Eggers replaced Dale Holland as varsity coach, and Paul Stringer has taken Eggers place as JV Coach.

Eggers, 26, graduated in 1978 from Oregon State University where he majored in physical education and minored in health and journalism.

Besides coaching, Eggers will teach boys' P.E., journalism, and photography. He taught English the past three years at HHS.

The coach said he plans to put more emphasis on defense and would like to run a controlled fast break. He said he also plans to put pressure on the opposing team for the full 32 minutes.

"It will be a very inexperienced team. That's probably the main thing that we're going to have to overcome in the preseason," he said. Due to graduation, this year's team will be minus five starting players. One junior, who saw playing time last year, will be returning, he said.

With the proper attitude from the kids, I think the team will be competitive, he said.

Stringer, 26, will enter his fourth year as a P.E. and health teacher at Heppner Junior High. He also works part time as a counselor at the school.

A 1979 graduate of Eastern Washington University at Cheney, Stringer is not new to the coaching field. He has coached junior high basketball for the past three years, coached a JV basketball team at a Spokane, Wash. school when he was student teaching, and directed Heppner's junior high baseball team for the past two years.

Baker Antique Equip. Assoc. slates show

The Baker Antique Equipment Association will hold its third annual show on Sept. 11 and 12 at the Pug Robinson Ranch, announced a spokesperson for the show. The ranch is located on the Richard-Halfway freeway interchange.

The Possetts will have a concession stand open and will be selling refreshments, she added.

No admission will be charged for the flea market. Show admission is $1, with no charge for exhibitors and children under 12.

12 compete at W.C.C.C.

Twelve ladies competed in Tuesday's ladies play at Willow Creek Country Club.

Wanda Willis and Muriel Palmer tied for low gross, and low net was won by Mary Beamer Long drive went to Lois Hunt and Katherine Lindstrom won K.P.

Beginning next Tuesday, Sept. 7, coffee will be served at 8:30 a.m. with tee off time at 9:30, said a spokesperson.
