Heppner High School's class of 1972 held a 10 year class reunion August 21 and 22. On Saturday night, the group enjoyed dinner and dancing at the Heppner Elks Lodge and on Sunday, a picnic at Cuts-forth Park. Jeanne Daly Wiemers was voted the most changed, while Gary Watkins was named the least changed. The most macho man award went to Craig Munkers and Patti Luciani Matheny won the prettiest woman prize. Jim and Georgia Van Winkle were named cutest couple and Danny Wilson was awarded for having the most children.

Co. School District announces policy for free school lunches

Morrow County School District has announced its policy for free and reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals under the National School Lunch Program.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility. Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals, or reduced price meals. Families will be notified within ten days of their eligibility for reduced price or free meals.

Application forms will be distributed to all parents and are available at school offices. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. Social Security numbers of all adult members in the household are required on the application. If approved for meal benefits, any changes in household size and change in income of more than $50 a month must be reported to the school administrator. Incomplete or inaccurate applications will be denied any benefits of the program.

To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the application form contains a state above the space for signature, certifying that all information furnished in the application is true and correct. An additional statement is added to warn that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of federal funds, that school officials may verify the information in the application and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable state and federal criminal statutes.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If families have foster children living with them and wish to apply for such meals for them, they should contact the school administrator.

Under the provisions of the policy, building principals will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If he wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a request either orally or in writing to the hearing official, Matthew P. Doherty, superintendent, Box 368, Lexington, OR 97839, phone 989-8202, for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should file a new application. Such changes may affect the eligibility of the children.

In the administration of school food service programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color or national origin.

Each school and the office of the superintendent has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

If your total household income is within the limits listed below, your children may be eligible for either free or reduced priced meals.

Family Size	Maximum Yearly Income
1	$ 8,680
2	11,510
3	14,360
4	17,210
5	20,050
6	22,900
7	25,750
8	28,600
Each additional family member	2,850

"Income," as the term is used in this notice is similar to that defined in the Bureau of the Census report, "Characteristics of the Low-Income Population: 1971." Current Population Reports, series P-60, No. 86, December 1972. "Income" means income before deductions for income taxes, employees' social security taxes, insurance premiums, bonds, etc. It includes the following:

1. Monetary compensation for services, including wages, salary, commissions or fees;
2. net income from nonfarm self-employment;
3. net income from farm self-employment;
4. social security;
5. dividends or interest on savings or bonds, income from estates or trusts, or net rental income;
6. public assistance or welfare payments;
7. unemployment compensations;
8. government civilian employee, or military retirement, or pensions or veterans' payments;
9. private pensions or annuities;
10. alimony or child support payments;
11. regular contributions from persons not living in the household; 12. net royalties; and 13. other cash income. Other cash income would include cash amounts received or withdrawn from any source including savings, investments, trust accounts, and other resources which would be available to pay the price of a child's meal.

"Income," as the term is used in this notice, does not include any income or benefits received under federal program which are excluded from consideration as income by any legislative prohibition. For example, income received by volunteers for services performed in the National Older American Volunteer Program as stipulated in the Domestic Volunteer Services Act of 1973, Public Law 93-113, Title IV, c 418 (87 Stat. 413, 42 U.S.D. 5058). Furthermore, the value of assistance to children or their families shall not be considered as income if prohibited by the authorizing legislation, e.g., the National School Lunch Act, the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 and the Food Stamp Act of 1977.

Sewing by Satellite to come to Portland

Explore the space age and attend the biggest sewing event of 1982 - Sewing by Satellite. On November 6, the American Home Sewing Association and space age technology will bring together over 3,500 sewing educators and retailers and 25 home sewing industry experts to participate in a celebration of instant communication, announced a spokesperson for the event.

This all new and all exciting teleconference will be beamed live via satellite from New York City and simultaneously transmitted to 25 cities, including Portland, in the United States. Sewing by Satellite is the first sewing seminar that moves information instead of presenters. And the information is sensational, the spokesperson said.

During this day-long seminar, home sewing industry experts will share the latest technological advances in fabric, fibers and equipment with communicators of sewing. A spring '83 fashion show will be seen and those attending will also hear leading fashion designers discuss how fashion ideas are born, preview the newest construction and easy-to-teach fit techniques, discuss organizational ideas, teaching teens, sewing for profit programs, and much more, she said.

The speakers will be seen on a large screen, and at the same time, those who participate will be able to talk directly with them in the New York City studio during the many questions and answer segments, the spokesperson explained.

At each receive site, a state clothing specialist will moderate the day's events. In Oregon, Ardis Koester, OSU extension textile and clothing specialist will be featured. Participants will take home a clothing and textiles resource notebook that includes valuable information on all the topics covered during the day, plus sewing program ideas, activity guides and duplicating masters.

Sewing by Satellite is a result of several years of research which included five pilot seminars held throughout the country. The video teleconference was planned in cooperation with the United States Department of Education, Home Economists Division, the American Home Economics Association and USDA Extension Service, Clothing and Textiles Division.

For more information and registration forms, write to: Sewing by Satellite, American Home Sewing Association, 1270 Broadway, Suite 1007, New York, New York 10001 or Ardis Koester, Extension Textiles and Clothing Specialist, Oregon State University, Corvallis, Oregon 97331-5106, local facilitator.

Registration forms are also available at the Morrow Co. Extension office in Heppner.

Recreation Report

The Umatilla national Forest office, Pendleton, has released the following Recreation Report:

Heppner Ranger District
Road paving on the road into Bull Prairie Campground has been completed and the road is now open. The water system at Bull Prairie Campground is not complete and water is not available at the campground. However, water is on at Fairview Campground, only three miles west on Highway 207. Fishing is slow at both Bull Prairie and Penland Lakes.

Dale Ranger District
All trails on the district are open, however, only North Fork John Day, Granite Creek, Silver Butte and cold Springs Trails are maintained. All roads are open and in good condition. Tollbridge, Olive Lake and North Fork John Day campgrounds are open on a reduced service basis with no drinking water available. Fishing is fair to good on the upper end of the North Fork John Day. Bow hunting success has been a fair in the higher country of the district. There has been an excellent huckleberry crop on the district. They are most abundant along the North Fork and Trout Meadows areas.

Ukiah Ranger District
The North Fork John Day Fisheries Habitat Improvement Project has been completed and water conditions have returned to normal. River water levels appear low and fishing is reported to be fair at best. The huckleberry season has been above average but is showing signs of winding down. Good berry picking is still available in the Tower Mountain, Big Creek and Winom Creek areas.

Archery season is in progress but success has been hampered by hot, dry weather. Hunters should use care with camp and warming fires. Falling, dead lodgepole pine continue to be a hazard to forest users, watch where you park and camp. The slightest wind will blow them over.
