A.A.U.W. slates meeting on Measure 5

Ballot Measure 5, urging a mutual freeze of nuclear weapons development, will be the topic at an open meeting of the American Association of University Women on Monday, Oct. 25, 7:30 p.m. at the Heppner High School cafeteria.

Included in the program is a showing of "The Last Epidemic. Medical Consequences of Nuclear War," a film distributed by the Physicians for Social Responsibility. This 36 minute film is a graphic verbal discussion of what would happen if a nuclear blast hit San Francisco, Calif. It is not recommended for children.

Stephen Donnell of La Grande will be the speaker. Donnell is an engineer who has worked on the Titan I and II missiles and for five years at Lockheed during the con-

Legion, Aux. plan events

The American Legion Auxiliary Post No. 87 have planned several events during October and November, announced a post spokesperson.

On Monday, Oct. 25, gifts for the Christmas Gift Shop, which is held each year for veterans in veteran's hospitals, will be made at Case Furniture in Heppner, beginning at 7 p.m. Anyone interested in helping make the gifts or who has items to donate is welcome.

On Monday, Nov. 1, a Thanksgiving dinner and meetings for members and their families will be held at the hall. Turkey, dressing, gravy and trimmings will be furnished, with members to

Heppner resident leaves

By MARYANN CERULLO

On October 16, the city of Heppner bid goodbye to a resident of 19 years, Zella Prindle. Her husband, Milo, has stayed behind until early spring. He is scheduled to retire from his management position at Kinzua Corp. in March.

According to Zella, the Prindles had a chance to sell their home on Campbell Way. So instead of risking losing their buyers, she decided to move to Salem right away. They have rented a small house there, next to the golf course and not far from their daughter's home. Meanwhile, Milo is staying in their motor home near the mill office.

After Milo's retirement, Zella reported, they are looking forward to a lot of golf and a lot of travel in their motor home.

M.C.G.G. annual meeting to be held Nov. 1

The Morrow County Grain Growers' annual meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 1, at the fairgrounds in Heppner, announced Larry Mills, general manager. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m., he said.

A business meeting will be held and will include reports from company officers. The election of directors and associate directors will also take place, he added.

Guest speaker for the meeting will be Ernest J. Briskey, dean of the School of Agriculture at Oregon State University.

Local representatives elected at BMCC

Fifteen representatives including two from Morrow County, have been elected to the student council at Blue Mountain Community College. Voting was completed last Thursday, said a college spokesperson.

The Morrow County representatives for the 1982-83 school year are Nancy Miller of Heppner and Liz McKinney of Irrigon.

The representatives join the associated student body officers in making up the student council which plans activities for the students at the college. Dances, noon entertainment, public service activities and the annual Christmas Eve Dinner are all activities organized by the council, the spokesperson said.

Irrigon man completes basic Airman Mitchell G. Spears, son of Grant G. Spears, Irrigon, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field. Spear's wife, Gloria, is the daughter of Earl Connell of Boardman.

Don't abandon unripe green tomatoes

By BOB COSTA
OSU Extension Agent
Morrow County

When cool fall weather arrives, don't abandon those unripe, green tomatoes in the garden. Green tomatoes in the "mature green stage" can be picked and ripened off the vine indoors.

To check for the mature green stage cut a green tomato in half. If the tomato is yellowish and jelly-like or sticky inside, it's in the mature green stage.

Mature green tomatoes also have a pink tinge on the blossom end, have less hairiness and are glossier and more whitish green than immature tomatoes. Mature green tomatoes will ripen over a period of three to four weeks when placed in a room with a temperature range of 60 to 70 degrees F. A tomato that hasn't reached the mature green stage won't ripen off the vine.

Temperature is of primary importance in ripening tomatoes. Sunlight isn't needed and in fact, tomatoes will ripen in the dark.

Avoid putting tomatoes on a sunny windowsill to ripen because exposure to direct sunlight may sunburn the fruit and ruin it.

An alternative to picking the tomatoes is to pull up the vine and take it, with tomatoes still attached, inside a basement or garage where the tomatoes can ripen still on the vine.

WE'LL STILL STAND BEHIND IT.

There are changes coming to Pacific Northwest Bell. But thousands of things won't change. The hundreds of service technicians like Michael Matney, keeping your phone lines in working order. The hundreds of operators like Angela Piper, giving you information, helping you place calls. The hundreds of service representatives like Monica Weitzel, handling your service requirements. In fact, there will always be thousands of good reasons why Pacific Northwest Bell will work to keep your phone service the best there is.

People like Michael and Angela and Monica. Who'll still be there to give you the reliable service you count on. You've probably heard that in the near future, Pacific Northwest Bell and other local Bell companies will become separate from our parent company, AT&T. What does these changes mean to you? More options. New kinds of service. New ways of making your communications more useful, now and in the future. For homes and businesses.

Always providing the best services we can. From the same dependable people. We'll be talking with you about these changes as they happen. In ads like this. And on television. We know you've got questions. We want to make it easy for you to get answers. So give us a call. Call 1 800 555-5000 anytime between 8am to 11pm, Monday through Friday.
