Question: "Do you feel the voters will pass Ballot Measure No. 3, the tax limitation measure, on Nov. 2?"
 "I certainly hope not!" said Cara Costa of Heppner. "I'd also like to add that I hope everyone gets out and votes in this election."

Volleyball teams lose despite good efforts

The Ione Jr. High Volleyball team was defeated by Echo last Thursday by scores of 15-1, 1-15, 3-15. Ione's high point scorers were Sabrina White and Mary Ann Alvarado.
 The Ione team played well during the entire match. They volleyed well, they set and bumped well but couldn't hold onto their first game lead.

Coach Barbara Adams commented "The girls played a very good game despite the score. They really played hard and out-played Echo throughout the game."

Ione's JV team also lost but is still showing a substantial amount of improvement. Jill Conklin was high point scorer for the JV team.

Ione meets Condon there at 1:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 28.

I.U.C.C. Youth Fellowship plans for Halloween

The Jr. High Youth Fellowship of the Ione United Church of Christ is busy with plans for Halloween festivities. The youths have chosen three ways to celebrate the holiday, announced the Rev. Cathy Barker, I.U.C.C. pastor.

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 31, the group members will trick-or-treat—but not for sweets. They will collect funds for the church's "Books for Zimbabwe" project. They hope to provide several of the African schools with subscriptions to "National Geographic" magazine through their collection (See related story).

In the early evening the youth will host a Halloween party for the children of the area. All children are welcome to come between 5 and 7 p.m. to the church basement for games, refreshments and a costume parade. A haunted house is planned, also. All participants are asked to come in costume. Preschoolers should be accompanied by an adult.

Following the children's party, the youth will celebrate the day with a party for themselves. Barker concluded.

Merchant's Assoc. votes to charge dues

Heppner merchants met last Friday for a noon luncheon meeting at the Heppner Elks Lodge.

The group voted to donate $50 to the Heppner Lions Club, to be used to show movies in the old post office building during the Moonlight Sale on Thursday.

President Ron McDonald announced that the cost to replace Christmas light hookups will be slightly under $30 per hookup, less than originally estimated. McDonald said Heppner merchants will be contacted in the near future for funds to replace the hookups.

The group also voted to establish a $10 annual dues fee, effective November 1. Linda Hutchinson, who was elected secretary-treasurer at the meeting, is in charge of accepting the fees.
