LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thank you 7th graders

To the editor:
Recently we had the honor of chaperoning the seventh graders on a field trip to Portland. There are so many negative things you hear these days about kids, especially the teen-agers, that we felt we should write and let everyone know about our field trip.
The children spent four hours riding to Portland, were at the Zoo, in pouring rain, and OMSI for four hours, then another four hour bus ride home. All this time there were no problems with the kids. They were courteous and willing to do what their group wanted to do, with no complaining or bickering.

We feel Mrs. Munck and Mr. Wilson deserve a vote of thanks for all the planning they put into the field trip. But, most of all, a big Thank You to the kids for making our trip so pleasant.
Thank you, too, Hilda, for getting us there and back safely.

Modern day campaigning

To the editor:
With the election over, it's time to reflect about modern day campaigning. One way to hold down costs is with volunteer participation.
The willingness of our county people to be good hosts to Governor Atiyeh has paid off. He looks forward to return visits! The women who phoned in the last few days to help get out the voters, deserve much thanks.

Donation of time keeps our democratic system healthy.
Thank you.

Sincerely,
Don & Martha Peterson

Help from readers needed

To the editor:
The Times-Journal, the weekly newspaper which officially serves Wheeler and Gilliam counties, is involved in gathering information for a history book of Wheeler County, a book which has the potential of becoming the most complete history of that county ever to be compiled.
To do so, however, we need the help of your readers. The book will include family histories written by the families themselves, histories of businesses and organizations and churches. We are asking anyone and everyone who has ever had ties in Wheeler County to submit a written history and a photograph to be included in the publication.

Much more information can be obtained by contacting us at the address below or by calling (503) 384-2421. Thank you for your participation.

Editorial

Credit our vetrans

This Thursday, Nov. 11, flags across the nation will be unfurled - It's Veterans Day. A day to remember and pay tribute to the men and women who have served our great country.

It's been nearly a decade since Vietnam Veterans came home, but as with all wars, the scars, though they may fade, remain with us all.

The Veterans Administration reports that 1,081,000 Americans have died in the defense of their country in all American wars since 1776, and more than 30 million former servicemen have served during both war and peacetime.

The VA also states "From 1971 to 1975, Veterans Day was observed on the fourth Monday in October in compliance with a 1968 law that changed most national holidays to Mondays. "Believing however, that the November 11 date held great significance for this country, Congress passed a law in 1975 which returned the holiday to November 11. The law became effective in 1978, the 16th anniversary of the World War I armistice."

At a time when our nation is living in and trying to resolve an economic recession, high unemployment rates and a Social Security Administration that must face changes to remain in existence, it is difficult to focus on positive aspects of living in the US today.

However, when we hear of people who give up their possessions, and many times leave families behind to try for a chance to live in the US, where freedom reigns, we're slapped in the face with reality. A reality of living in a free country, which we all take for granted. A reality for which we must credit our leaders and vetrans.

District Attorney Ann Spicer. Weaver was sentenced to three years in the custody of the Oregon State Corrections Division - suspended, placed on three years probation, is to serve 60 days in jail, is to enroll, participate and complete an alcohol treatment program and is to take antabuse if medically approved.

Morrow County Deputy District Attorney Harold McLean reported that Steven Keith Ball, 25, of Heppner, appeared before Morrow County Circuit Court on an Order to Show Cause why his probation should not be revoked for failure to pay a $205 fine. The court held that he was in violation of his probation and that he willfully failed to pay his fine without lawful excuse and was in willful contempt of court. His probation was revoked and he was sentenced to serve 60 days in Umatilla County Jail.
