Weddings
Morris - McCarl

Mr. and Mrs. William Morris

Sharon Ann McCarl, daughter of Shirley and Morris McCarl of Lexington, became the bride of William Andrew Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris of Lexington, on December 18. The ceremony was read by the Rev. Lloyd Oliver, retired minister of the Brownsville Church, at the Brownsville Christian Church in Brownsville.

The Candlelight ceremony was performed in a setting of burgundy flowers accented with mauve.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father, was lovely in a white chapel length gown of schiffi, with embroidered lace featuring a Victorian neckline, accented by matching lace. Her headpiece of the same fabric was accented with a circle of burgundy and mauve roses with lace edging. The bouquet was of the same colors of roses and streamers of mauve satin ribbon accented in white.

The maid of honor, Barbara Coiner, a sister of the bride, wore a floor length Victorian style burgundy gown. Bridesmaid Cynthia Sumner of Lexington wore an identical Victorian style gown in mauve.

The groom wore a black velvet tuxedo with bow tie, and pink ruffled shirt with burgundy trim. The groomsmen wore gray tuxedos with black velvet trim and bow ties.

Ring bearer was Joshua Coiner, nephew of the bride, and flower girl was Kara Morris, niece of the groom.

Groomsman was Mike Cheever and ushers were Joe Morris and Lee McCarl, brothers of the bride and groom.

Music was provided by the organist, Sharon Smith, and vocalists, Chuck and Laurel Morris, who sang "Sunrise-Sunset."

A reception was held following the ceremony. A Three-tiered cake adorned with burgundy and mauve roses, topped with cut glass wedding bells, was served, as well as punch and coffee.

Serving were Carol Webber, Linda Perez and Jeri McKern aunts of the groom, and Myrtle McMillan, aunt of the bride. In charge of the guest book was Jill Hunt, and Julie Hunt attended the gift table. Both are cousins of the bride.

After a trip to the Oregon Coast, the young couple are at home in Salem. The groom is currently a student at Linn Benton Community College, majoring in data processing. Summer employment includes work on the Eielson Fairbanks Protection Project, Fairbanks, Alaska. The bride is currently an assistant administrator with the United Methodist Retirement Center. She holds a degree in elementary education.

From Lexington attending the wedding were Myrtle McMillan and son, Marion, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sumner and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hunt.
