

Mustangs unable to beat Weston McEwen a 2nd time

By GLENN SMITH

On Friday, Feb. 11, the Heppner Mustangs traveled to Athena to battle it out once more with the Weston McEwen Tiger Scotts. Although Heppner had previously succeeded in defeating Weston McEwen, they were unable to repeat their performance and lost to the Tiger Scotts 77-68.

The Mustangs looked strong in the first quarter, getting a 12-4 lead; however, the Tiger Scotts turned right around to recapture the lead.

Head Coach Brent Eggers believed that they "Lost it in the end of the first. We got the lead but Weston turned right around and got it back."

After that the Tiger Scotts pretty well dominated the game, outscoring Heppner on the score board.

Eggers believed that defense was the problem and that offensively "our ball movement was really good. I was really happy with the concentration that they had which reflected on their handling of the ball."

He named Jeff Orr (Orr scored 27 points for the Mustang Cagers) as an example of what results from concentration. Defense was the big killer of the game as Heppner succeeded in shutting out Halsan Bjorn but failed to cover the weak side.

"We keyed on Halsan," Eggers explained, "but we were unable to control both him and the weak side. We tried three different defenses and none of them were able to stop the Tiger Scotts." This lack of defensive execution cost the Mustangs the game.

"You lose something when you concentrate on one area. We should have been able to take care of the others but we just didn't do the job. We also had a lot of fouls," the coach said.

That was another key point of the game, allowing Weston McEwen to shoot 21 for 30 on foul shots.

Eggers summed up the game when he said "We knew what we had to do but we just didn't do it."

Eggers was pleased, however, with the Mustangs' spirit stating "We never quit and we were in the game until the last seconds. The Tiger Scotts are a really talented team. Our concentration was better and we only had 13 turnovers, and so overall I would have to say that I am really happy about the way we handled the game offensively."

Cards defeat Umapine

By CRAIG GUTIERREZ

The Cardinals kept their playoff hopes alive as they beat the Umapine Chiefs 74-56 last Friday night. With this win the Cardinals moved to 7-3 and remained tied for first place with the Helix Grizzlies.

In the first quarter, the lone Cardinals started out very poorly as they only out scored the last place team by one, 15-14.
