98 garden club members attend meeting

By JUSTINE WEATHERFORD

The annual spring meeting of the 12 clubs of Blue Mountain District No. 10 of the Oregon State Federation of Garden Clubs, Inc. was attended by 98 members of the Willows Grange Hall, Ione on Thursday, March 24, from 9:30 a.m. until after 3:30 p.m. Honored out-of-district guests included Oregon State President Mrs. Donald Bigelow, Springfield; State First Vice-president Mrs. Lane Smith, Jr., Klamath Falls; and State Awards Chairman Mrs. Robert Farris, Portland. A special visitor was Mrs. John Tellechea, who is president of the newly organized "Garden Bugs" club at Lexington. Each person attending wore a name tag made on a recycled jar lid which was tied with a calico bow.

Ione Club President Mrs. Fredrick Martin, along with other members of the hostess club, welcomed everyone. The meeting committee chaired by Mrs. Lee Pettyjohn included Mrs. Harold Huber and Mrs. Norman Nelson. The meeting theme "Grandma's Cupboard" was featured on the program covers which were made by Mrs. Pettyjohn, in the large entrance hall arrangement of spring blooms set in an old washtub with wringer attached, in the name tags, in the checked table cloths and luncheon table decorations and favors.

Before the lunch hour, an instructive talk about spring bulbs (all Narcissi) was presented by Mrs. Belts, who pointed out that spring travels at a rate of 13 miles each day. She said that bulbs should be planted early, that they have a six-week blooming period and that they do better if planted in clumps and not in rows.

grounds in Heppner between 12 noon and 2 p.m. that day.

Plans are being made to hold programs on art appreciation by Ron Forrar at Heppner starting April 25, 7 p.m., at the Wagon Wheel cafe.

The luncheon in the grange diningroom was served by the ladies of the grange with Mrs. Lewis Halvorsen as chairman. Individual favors were miniature wooden crates made by Charles Buchanan, Lexington, which held calico-capped jars of homemade jellies and jams and net wrapped candies. At each table lucky napkin holders were awarded pots of primroses and sempervivums. The blue and white checked table covers were centered with interesting old, household items.

During the afternoon session, Mrs. Jackson, the district chaplain, memorialized deceased members. Many awards were presented, including certificates for the districts' outstanding yearbooks: first place ($10) went to Pendleton's Dirt Dabblers; second place ($7) to Ione; third ($5) to Hermiston's Bloomer Girls; fourth ($4) to Pendleton Garden Club and honorable mention awards ($2 each) to Milton-Freewater and Prairie City. District Director Tellefson awarded certificates to the many individuals who had made outstanding contributions during her term of office.

The district honored its second district director, Mrs. Bill Helmick, by presenting her with a life membership in the Oregon State Federation. Members of the Ione Garden Club honored their very active member Mrs. Norman Nelson for her years of dedication and leadership with a life membership, also.

Our members of the Blue Mountain Arrangers' Guild, Dixie Stephens, Cathy Atkinson, Thelma Renner, all from Pasco and Roberta Snell, Sunnyside, displayed 23 outstanding modern arrangements made with spring flowers. A special group of these was done in a Japanese manner. Each arranger explained her arrangements and told of the technique she used.

There was a small showing of spring flowers. Blue ribbons were awarded to those displayed by Mrs. Charles Dallas, Pendleton; Mrs. Fredrick Martin, Ione; and Mrs. Bill Farra and Mrs. Bill Weatherford, both of Heppner. The 16 federation members who attended from Morrow County included 11 from Ione, four from Boardman and five from Heppner. The Heppner ladies helped with the morning coffee table.

Before the ladies dispersed, the hostess club gave out an assortment of door prizes from "Grandma's Cupboard" and presented each person with a calico-covered sachet holding a collection of dried petals and herbs from "Grandma's" last fall harvest.
