

Heppner students plan Science Fair

Heppner Elementary science students prepare projects for Science Fair

Students at Heppner Elementary School will present a Science Fair on Tuesday, April 19. Projects will be on display for public viewing in the school's multi-purpose room from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

"The students have been hard at work on a large variety of science projects for several weeks," said Miriam Munck, junior high science teacher and fair organizer.

Everyone is invited to attend and view the students' projects, she said.

What's Your Opinion?

Question: "With the deadline for filing your income tax coming up this week (April 15), do you feel I.R.S. is fair in their methods of taxing?"

"No, not really," said Bob Nairns of Heppner. "They ought to give you more time."

Calif. musician to perform in lone

Tom Hunter, a folksinger and songwriter from the San Francisco Bay Area, is coming to perform in lone on Sunday, April 17. His concert will be at the lone United Church of Christ at 6:30 p.m., reports the Rev. Cathy Barker, pastor.

A potluck supper will precede the concert at 5:30 p.m. Dessert will be served during intermission.

Because Hunter is a professional musician, admission will be charged: adults $3.00, ages 10 and up $2.00, and for those under 10, the charge will be 50 cents, with a family maximum of $7, Barker said. Hunter's three albums will be available for purchase at the concert, she added.

"We have set the early hour to especially encourage children to attend," Barker stated. "The first half of the concert will have special appeal to young-of all ages!"

Childcare will be provided throughout the evening, she said.

Many lone United Church of Christ young people have attended Hunter's concerts in Portland and Hood River. "I really like it when we get to sing along," said one enthusiastic youth. These young people are amazed and excited that they can host the singer in lone, the pastor said.

Hunter is best known in the San Francisco Bay Area for his Sunday morning talk show on KGO radio. In addition, he and his wife, Gwen, sing in concert halls, festivals, schools, churches, living rooms, community centers and at special events.

The public is invited to join in this Family Night with Tom Hunter, and childcare will be provided throughout the evening, Barker said.

Local man retires, celebration planned

On March 31 Jerry Rood worked his last as District Field Assistant for Morrow County. After working for 27 years as the predator control agent for the region, Rood plans to do a lot of fishing and entertaining his new granddaughter.

Ken Mitchell of Lebanon, Oregon filled Rood's position that same day.

There will be a family potluck dinner Saturday, April 16, 6:30 p.m., at the American Legion Hall in Heppner to celebrate Jerry's retirement.

The public is very welcome to attend, said Betty Rood.

Co. 4-H'ers join others to explore new ideas

By BIRDINE TULLIS
Program Assistant
OSU Extension Service

Twelve older 4-H members from Morrow County joined others from nearby counties, as well as 4-H'ers from two Washington counties to explore new ideas for 4-H camping and leadership.

Brooks Camp near Goldendale, Wash. was the site, with Jim Douglas, Hood River extension agent, providing leadership. He was assisted by a number of experienced camp counselors and 4-H leaders. Among the older counselors, who served as a steering committee for the event, was Angie Evans of Irrigon. Francine Evans and Birdine Tullis were volunteer cooks for the camp. Those traveling to Brooks for the weekend training were: Kevin Hughes, Kimberle Wright, Paula Plocharsky, Tammy Hays, Ken Curtis, Shelley Strober, Ann Evans, Mike Ammons, Gibb Evans, Noella Rill, Travis Harrison and Andrea Ball.

Transportation for the 4-H'ers was provided by Merlin and Claudia Hughes, Wm. and Sandi Rill, Archie and Diana Ball and Cheryl Ammons.

Counselors for Morrow Co. 4-H camp will be selected from those attending.

Local square dance club hosts visitors

The Tri City Sun Dancers from Tri Cities, Wash. visited the local Grand Squares square dance club last Saturday at the lone American Legion Hall, reported Dorothy Warren, a spokesperson from the local club.

Callers were Jerry and Julie Holland of Dufur.

A square of dancers from the Square Knots club of Hermiston also attended the dance, she said.

The Grand Squares club had visited the Hermiston club earlier this year, and when the local club members left, they took the Hermiston club's banner with them, inviting the Square Knots to visit the local club and retrieve it.

During the dance in lone last Saturday, the Tri City group took the Grand Square club's banner. Mrs. Warren said the local club will visit the Sun Dancers in the future and

School board to meet

A regular meeting of the Morrow County School Board will be held April 18, 8 p.m., at the district office in Lexington.

The board is expected to consider setting specifications for the district's health insurance program prior to requesting bids for next year. The board will also review repair estimates for damage done when a vehicle struck the Heppner High School building, said a board spokesperson.

In other business, the board will hold an executive session to hear a grievance filed by a school district employee, the spokesperson said.

School building damaged, pickup totaled in crash

For Danny Fortenberry of Heppner, last Friday started out like any other school day. He drove his pickup to school, parked it in the school parking lot and went to class.

At about 11 a.m.; however, things started "rolling." His 1971 GMC 4-wheel drive half-ton slipped out of gear, rolled down the hill and crashed into Dale Conklin's classroom.

Heppner High School Principal Jim Bier said Tuesday he had no estimate of damages to the building yet, but was expecting an estimate soon.

Fortenberry said his pickup was totaled, and had only liability insurance coverage.

C.C.C. taking offers

On April 4, the Commodity Credit Corporation invited offers from farmers who had pledged collateral for outstanding C.C.C. price support wheat loans to sell wheat to C.C.C., reports the Morrow Co. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Offers must be submitted no later than the close of business on April 15. In the case of warehouse stored loan collateral, wheat grading No. Four or worse or mixed wheat may not be offered.

If the bid is accepted the producer will have sold the offered wheat to C.C.C. for the loan value, plus charges, and will receive a percentage of wheat as payment in kind (PIK).

The bids will be opened at 5:30 p.m. April 15 in the Morrow County A.S.C.S. office in Heppner. The public is invited to attend. The decision on whether to accept the bids will be made by the Kansas City office and all offerors will be notified by C.C.C. in writing of the acceptance or rejection of their offer.

"If you have a C.C.C. loan, please check with your local A.S.C.S. office for complete details. Don't miss what may be a good marketing alternative," said a spokesperson from the local A.S.C.S. office.

4-H Survival Club expands

Older members are now welcome to join the Survival 4-H Club since Carl Martin has joined forces with teen leaders Kevin Hughes and Chris McLaughlin. Previously the teen leaders had limited enrollment to beginners. Martin will co-lead the existing club which meets on Wednesdays at 5:30 p.m. at the extension conference room in Heppner.

A number of field trips and outdoor adventures are planned by the leaders as spring weather allows.

For more information, call Kevin Hughes at 676-5349 (after 6 p.m.), Carl Martin at 676-5158, or the extension office, 676-9642.

4-H Summer Week planned

By BIRDINE TULLIS
Program Assistant
OSU Extension Service

Oregon 4-H'ers are invited to "Reach for the Stars" and attend 4-H Summer Week at Corvallis June 13 through 18.

Application forms for the special event went in the mail last week to all Morrow Co. 4-H'ers in eighth through 12th grades.

The event is divided into intermediate and senior age activities. While in Corvallis the 4-H'ers live in college dorms, attend classes and many other exciting events.

Summer Week brings 4-H members from all of Oregon together for fun, leadership development, new and different learning experiences and career exploration.

Morrow 4-H'ers are provided scholarships for expenses by local businesses and individuals.

The last date to make application to attend is April 21. It is expected that a large number of applications will be received this year so 4-H'ers should prepare and send in applications as soon as possible.

Drama Club performs for preschoolers

By JUSTINE WEATHERFORD

The poor miller's son, handsome Carl (Loren Hayes), only inherited the world's greatest cat, and this led to his fantastic romance with a beautiful princess and to great wealth.

Children and adults, too, who saw the Heppner High School Drama Club's play on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, April 9 and 10, at Heppner Elementary School, became familiar with a greatly beloved fairy story, which probably came out of oral tradition but which is frequently attributed to Perrault and is now titled "The Truly Remarkable Puss-In-Boots."

The play was directed by Larry Cerullo. Mardell James served as stage manager, and she also played the part of the unseen, but frightening, mean and nasty ogre. Monsieur Puss-In-Boots, the super cat, the leading character, was well portrayed by Ken Curtis.

Melissa Privett was the deceased miller's elder daughter and Annette Wilgers was her younger sister—these actresses also doubled as the woman-with-hoe and as the farmer's wife. The young and perky palace maid was played by Merry DeSpain. The fairy tale royalty, a kindly king and his young and most beautiful princess daughter, were played by Bob Harris and Vicki Adams.

Everyone, except the royalty and the ogre, learned the power of good publicity and the value of a sharp press agent. After Puss had talked his master into getting him some boots and a hat with a sweeping feather, he became a most effective salesman. The truly remarkable Puss renamed his master the "Marquis of Carabas" and soon had their comfortable futures assured—that is after he finally persuaded the ogre to prove he (she) could change himself (herself) into a mouse. Ah! Cheers!
