Delpha Jones 989-8189

Lexington Grange met Monday night beginning with a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. Following this, there was a program by Bill Nichols on the County Search and Rescue Possee. He told of the schooling that members must take, and explained the extensive equipment the group has.

All members volunteer their time and equipment. Anyone interested in joining the posse may contact Bill Nichols.

A slide presentation of before and after Mt. St. Helens eruption was given by Mr. Nichols. The slides are available for viewing through the Search and Rescue organization.

Guests at the meeting were Dot and Louis Halvorsen. Dot talked to the group about Pomona C.W.A. work, and lined officers up for initiation, which will be held Sunday, with first and second degrees and a potluck dinner at 2 p.m. with the third and fourth degrees following.

The grange picnic, originally planned for June, has been postponed until August.

Barbara and Orville Cutsforth were elected as alternates to state grange in case the master and his wife are unable to attend. State grange will be held in Ashland June 21-23.

The Blue Mountain Fiddlers will make their annual visit at Lexington Grange Hall on October 15.

The Three Links Club met Thursday at Lella Palmer's home. They discussed a trip to LaVerne Henderson's home in Hood River on June 9. The ladies plan to take the senior citizen bus. They will enjoy lunch with LaVerne and an afternoon of visiting.

Those present were: Dorothy Burcham, Kathy Tellechea, Luella Taylor, Joyce Buchanan, Virginia Peck, Eula Bloodworth, Katie Padberg, Delpha Jones and the hostess.

Donna Papineau fell on the street last week and received treatment for lacerations. She is confined to her home.

Reduced tillage chemicals to be discussed at meetings

By BOB COSTA
OSU Extension Agent
Morrow County

"Chemicals for Reduced Tillage" is the subject of breakfast meetings scheduled for Pendleton on May 25 and at The Dalles on May 26. The meetings are to start at 7:30 a.m. and will be held at the Red Lion Motor Inn in Pendleton and the Portage Inn at The Dalles.

The programs are hosted by the chemical companies, the OSU Extension Service, and the Soil Conservation Service.

The program, identical at both sites, will consist of presentations by representatives of seven chemical companies who supply herbicides used in reduced tillage situations such as no-till, chemical fallow and conservation tillage. Farmers are invited to attend one of the sessions. The breakfasts will be hosted by the chemical companies. If you plan to attend, call the extension office in Heppner (676-9642) by 12 noon on May 23 to be sure the chefs plan for enough meals.

What's Your Opinion?

Question: "How do you feel about Senator Packwood coming to speak at the Heppner High School graduation?"

"Most of the kids feel that they don't care," said Marti Baker, senior, of Heppner, "as long as he doesn't talk about politics."

Garden club attends meeting

On May 3, five Ione Garden Club members went to Condon to attend their club's regular meeting. This month the meeting was held at the home of Myrtle Potter, where her greenhouses hold plants getting a head start on Condon's short growing season, reported an Ione Club member. Some of the plants were started by club members and will be sold at the club's plant sale scheduled for May 29. A lobelia plant was presented to each of the visitors.

A slice program on greenhouse techniques prepared by the OSU Extension Service was shown and Ione Garden Club members enjoyed sitting in on the Condon Club's business meeting, hearing reports on the busy club's many projects.
