There were 33 buyers and 42 consignors represented at Thursday's market.

MARKET TREND: While the number of cattle offered was light, prices held steady on all classes. Several consignors decided to hold their stock until the 11th, which looks to be a good sale, or the numbers offered this week would have been higher.

NEXT SALE: Thursday, August 11th. This sale will feature weaned fall calves with over 650 head consigned. These are premium calves from local producers. This should be a good market with plenty of interest.
