LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Voice your protest

To the editor:
 As you all have probably read or heard, a Social Security representative will not be coming to Heppner anymore. If you don't want this program dropped, you can voice your protest by calling the toll free number, 1-800-452-1654.
 It means people gong out of town to visit a Social Security office will also be shopping out of town and this will affect our economy. As some merchants have said, "shop at home," so everyone is urged to protest our loss of this program and keep our economy healthy.

Plans underway for 12th annual Artifactory

The Heppner-Ione branch of the American Association for University Women will sponsor its 12th annual Artifactory on Saturday, Dec. 3, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The event will be held at the Morrow County Fairgrounds in Heppner. Area artists, craftspersons and organizations are encouraged to reserve their table space now by calling Joan Records, 676-5260 or Carol Helphinstine at 676-9439. Callers are asked to phone between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. Deadline for reservations is November 4.

Surplus cheese to be available 1 more time

Government surplus cheese will be available at the Heppner Neighborhood Center for those who haven't yet received it on or since October 11 for just one more week. October 25 will be the last day the cheese from the latest shipment will be given out. Those who haven't picked up cheese are asked to please do so before October 25.
 The federal guidelines to qualify for the free cheese are: one family member - a monthly income of $506 or less; two family members - a monthly income of $681; three family members - a monthly income of $856; a family of four - a monthly income of $1,031; and for a family of five - a monthly income of $1,206. For each additional family member, $175 may be added to the monthly income to determine the qualifying amount.
 Another cheese giveaway is scheduled for November. At that time, the cheese will only be given out on one designated day, which will be announced later. Arrangements for shulins or those without transportation to receive cheese can be made by calling the center, 676-5873. The staff at the center was informed that the cheese can only be given out for one day and must follow this new rule.
 There have been no further arrangements for a Social Security representative to visit Heppner once a month since the visits were terminated this month. Anyone who has questions regarding Social Security may call toll free, 1-800-452-1654.
 There are only seven weeks left until the Artifactory on December 3. The ladies who attend the Thursday social and craft times at the center will be working to get ready for the annual event. Any help with ideas or crafts and making items to sell will be appreciated.

Boardman school club to sponsor carnival

The Sam Boardman Elementary School Parent Teacher Club is sponsoring a carnival to raise funds for its school. The carnival will be held Friday, Oct. 21, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. at the school on Wilson Road.
 "We have planned a variety of games with lots of good prizes. There will be hot dogs, soft drinks, desserts, and pop corn available," said a spokesperson for the carnival.
 The club has purchased a 10-speed bicycle and area merchants have donated prizes for a drawing to be held the night of the carnival. Tickets will be sold by fourth, fifth and sixth grade students prior to the carnival and they will also be for sale during the early part of the carnival.
 Prizes that have been donated are a Sanyo, A.M.-F.M. radio donated by Boardman Pharmacy & Hardware, a $25 gift certificate from Sharlene's Department Store, a ham from Thrifty Market and two steak dinners from the Dodge City Inn.
