There were 53 buyers and 101 consignors represented at Thursday's market.

MARKET TREND: We had a large run of calves offered with most of the demand being shown for calves that had been weaned and pre-conditioned. The market was steady to stronger with last week's market and stronger than was reported elsewhere earlier this week. The cow market dropped again this week with not enough being offered to test the bull market. We would like to thank both buyers and consignors alike for making this such a good active market.
