

M.C.G.G. holds annual meeting from p. 1

Co-op Secretary Lyle Peck gives report at annual meeting.

he said. Election of officers to M.C.G.G. was also held Monday night.

Charles Anderson, Jerry Dougherty, Paul Hisler Jr. and Kenneth Nelson were elected to the board of directors for three-year terms.

Dwight Bailey, Michael Bunch, William Doherty, Paul Taylor and Jim West were elected as associate directors for one-year terms.

Gene Majeske was re-elected president of the co-op, as was Gary Grieb, vice-president and Lyle Peck, secretary.

An advisory vote, asking members to consider limiting the number of terms a director could serve, passed 55 yes, 17 no.

The vote was advisory only, and any changes would require a formal adoption at a future annual meeting.

'Big Brother' to gaze down on HHS stage

"Big Brother" will be gazing down from the stage at Heppner High School next Thursday and Friday, Nov. 17 and 18 at 7:30 p.m.

According to Larry Cerullo, director, the Drama Club is putting final touches on the play "1984" this week and the set is slowly taking shape.

A part of the play that will be new to Heppner High audiences will be the first in-performance test of the club's new follow spotlight, operated by Nancy Martin. According to Cerullo, the spotlight will give a more professional finish to the lighting of the Drama Club's productions and will also allow for more dramatic lighting effects.

"We are experimenting with it in this play," said Cerullo.

"As the students become more familiar with it, it will be used more and more often to help make our shows better."

The scene is set in Oceania—a sort of combined USA and Western Europe. The play is a dramatic take-off from the George Orwell novel and addresses only short parts of the novel while keeping the audience in the world created by the classic.

About 15 students are to be actively involved in the production including a number of first-time thespians. Cerullo urges everyone to come and see their debut. Tickets are $2 for students and $3 for adults at the door. "Remember, Big Brother is watching you!"

Rhea Creek Home Ext. group meets

The Rhea Creek Home Extension Group met at the home of Creth Harris on Tuesday morning, Nov. 1. The lesson given by Mrs. Harris and Delpha Jones was on Snacks; the different kinds, and how they benefit your body.

There was discussion on what snacks are best for small children, high school age children and older adults. There was also some discussion on vitamins, and if they are beneficial or not. This was a most informative discussion.

A lovely dinner was prepared by the hostess with members furnishing salads and desserts. There were eight members present.

The next meeting will be held at the Jones home in December.

Two trackers 4-H Club holds meeting

With 18 members present the Heppner Two Trackers 4-H Club met for the club's fifth meeting on November 6, which started with equitation practice. Members rode in combined age groups.

During the next meeting, on November 13, the club will be divided into ability groups with beginning, intermediate and young horses to practice from 1 to 2:30 p.m., and juniors and seniors to ride between 2:30 and 4 p.m.

A short business meeting will be held at 2:30 p.m.

Members who have not turned in their registration forms are asked to do so. A fee of $2 is being charged for insurance and $1 is assessed for registration and materials, said a club spokesperson.

Parents and new members are always welcome, she added.

Motor Vehicles office undergoes changes

The Heppner field office of the Department of Motor Vehicles has undergone changes in preparation of the installation of a new computer, reports Gene Murty, motor vehicle office manager in Heppner.

Two maintenance repairmen from the State Department of Motor Vehicles in Salem were in Heppner on Tuesday, Nov. 1, changing the counter, building new cabinets and putting in a new Driver's License Issuance System computer.

Murty said the computer will do inventory control work, will receive and transmit data and will make driver's licenses.

Data from the Heppner office will be transferred via computer to a regional data bank computer, and then on to the state's computer in Salem during the night, he explained.

The new state-wide system is to be in complete operation early in 1984, Murty said.
