The P.N.G. Club of Holly Rebekah Lodge met at Beecher's Cafe in Ione for a luncheon meeting on Wednesday. This was a meeting which had been scheduled for December but due to the weather conditions was postponed.

The tables were decorated with small gifts for each member, and napkins welcoming the guests. An exchange of secret sister gifts was enjoyed, and an election of officers was held, with the following taking office: Joyce Buchanan, chairman; Hilda Yocom, vice-chairman; and Virginia Peck, secretary.

Holly Rebekah Lodge met on Thursday afternoon for a regular meeting. The charter was draped for a departed sister, Irene Padberg. Joyce Buchanan, Hilda Yocom and Leila Palmer were the sisters speaking, and they carried lighted candles, white roses and the drape.

An installation of officers was held with the following installed: Leila Palmer, N.G.; Virginia Peck, V.G.; Delpha Jones, Sec.; Dorothy Burckham, treasurer; Kathy Tellechea, Warden; Frances Peck, Conductor; I.S.G., Venice Hendrickson; O.S.G. Luelia Taylor; Chaplain, Annetta Padberg; L.S.N.G., Eula Bloodsworth; R.S.N.G. Ruth Robinson; L.S.V.G. Joyce Buchanan; R.S.V.G. Hilda Yocom; R.S.C., Donna Papineau; and P.G. Catie Padberg.

Plans were discussed for the president's visit in March, and all were reminded of the card party scheduled for February 4.

A potluck dinner was enjoyed earlier in the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smouse visited their son Carl, and attended a meeting of the school he is attending in Salem earlier this week.

Philip Marquardt was a recent visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B.B. Marquardt.

Lexington Grange met on Monday night for a regular meeting, starting with a pancake supper prepared and served by the men of the grange. A most interesting program prepared by the Oregon State Police on Report Every Drunk Driver Immediately was given. This is a program showing the effects of alcohol on the body. It was a very interesting and educational film. This was presented to the group by Carl Martin of the Oregon State Police.

The meeting was called to order by the master at 8 p.m., and introduced and escorted to the master's station was the honored guest, Bryce Keene, master of Willows Grange. Mrs. Keene was also introduced and welcomed. There were good committee reports given and the budget committee reported on the auditing of the books and the budget for the coming year was read and accepted.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Harris, guests of the evening, were introduced and welcomed.

Plans were discussed for initiation at the Lexington hall on Sunday, Jan. 22 with Willow Grange assisting, and Dot Halvorsen taking the master's office.

Installation will start at 2 p.m. after which a potluck dinner will be served. Then the degrees will be given starting at 4 p.m.

Mr. Keene gave a short talk and the meeting adjourned.

Pamona Grange will meet January 28 at Greenfield Grange Hall, a change from Willows, because of the weather conditions. The water level is causing back up in the grange hall and will take extensive work before another meeting can be held there.

Grain marketing workshop to be offered to local farmers

By BOB COSTA
OSU Extension Agent
Morrow County

Growing wheat is only half the job. Equally important are deciding when to sell, how much to sell and what marketing channels to use.

A two-day grain marketing workshop will be offered to area farmers and agricultural lenders. The first session will be held on January 24, with the concluding half to be held February 7. The workshop will be held at the fairgrounds in Heppner.

Participants should attend both days. The workshop is sponsored by the OSU Extension Service. Pre-registration is required and can be done by calling or stopping by the OSU extension office in Heppner.

Dr. Jim Cornelius and other OSU Extension Service economists will conduct the program. The workshop will begin with a discussion of market analysis, including where to get market information, fundamental and technical market analysis, and formulating price projections. The next topic will be sales techniques, including grain marketing alternatives and how the various alternatives have performed in the last 10 years. Techniques for determining when to sell will also be presented.

Developing a marketing strategy will be the topic beginning the second session. The session will conclude with a discussion of marketing management and computer applications for grain market-
