

Volunteer look out needed

The Oregon State Forestry Department is looking for a volunteer to man Rancheria Rock lookout about 10 miles south of Fossil. Budget changes in recent years have eliminated the forest lookout position at this location. If a suitable volunteer is found, the Fossil unit's lookouts would be fully manned. Why would anyone volunteer to spend the summer in a lookout tower? According to Dan Shults Fossil unit forester, aside from the peace and quiet, cooking, heating and refrigeration facilities will be supplied. Volunteer would go on pay status if he/she turns in a previously unreported wildfire on protected forest land in the Fossil unit. The experience gained may help an individual to qualify for a fully paid position in the future. Persons interested in applying for this volunteer position must be at least 17 years of age and have their own transportation. For further information, or to obtain an application form, contact the Oregon State Forestry Department at 763-2575.

Free tax return preparation available

Free income tax return preparation is available in many local Oregon communities, according to Steve Matthews, statewide coordinator for the Volunteer Tax Assistance program. This volunteer program assistance in the preparation of simple federal and state tax returns for low income, elderly, handicapped, and non-English speaking individuals. More than 700 Oregonians have received training in the preparation of basic tax forms from the Internal Revenue Service and the Oregon Department of Revenue. These volunteers are at work at community centers, schools, churches, senior centers and other neighborhood locations throughout Oregon. Individuals in need of assistance with their 1040A or "EZ" forms or a simple long form are encouraged to make an appointment at any one of the convenient sites for one-stop state and federal tax help. Volunteers are eager to serve those taxpayers who otherwise experience difficulty in having their returns prepared, Matthews explained. "Since many of our potential clients are non-English speaking or illiterate, and it is sometimes difficult to alert them to this free tax service," he added, "I encourage everyone to tell people in need of this kind of tax help about our program." In this area tax help may be obtained at the Senior Meal Site, 360 8th St. in Irrigon from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Monday, April 9. Additional information is available by calling the Internal Revenue Service in Portland, 231-3960, or toll-free, 1-800-424-1040.

195 range improvement program to be developed

The Umatilla National Forest Grazing Advisory Board will develop the forest's 1985 range improvement program at a meeting set for April 9 at 1 p.m. in the U.S. Forest Service supervisor's office in Pendleton, announced Roger Baker of the Pendleton office. Board members will also review the progress of the 1984 program, according to Chairman Bob Lazinka of Plot Rock.

Grazing Advisory Board members are: Ray French, Heppner; Jim West, Lone; Bud Walton, Long Creek; John Campbell, Condon; Don Anderson, Arlington; Bill Weatherly, Clarkston; Charley Kopp and Bob Lazinka, Pilot Rock; and Frank Tubbs, Adams. Baker, range staff officer for the Umatilla National Forest, may be contacted for additional information by calling the supervisor's office, 276-3811, or writing him at 2517 S.W. Hailey, Pendleton OR 97801.

The Fifth Quarter Sports by Mike Oths

Well, fans, holy cow grab onto your hats, it's time to Play Ball once again. Not only that, it's also time for yet another self-appointed expert to predict the outcome of the pennant races. The phenomenon of pennant-predicting is probably worth a column in itself. Most of us predict (a) on the off-chance that we'll be right, which would establish bragging material for the next 10 or 12 seasons and (b) with an eye toward promoting the teams that we want to win.

Keeping that in mind, and remembering that my favorite teams are, in order: Cincinnati, whatever team Pete Rose plays for, and Detroit, here goes.

American League East:
(1) The Tigers remind me a great deal of the Reds of the early 70s. Loaded with potential all-time greats like Lance Parrish, solid pitching, and the acquisition of Darrell Evans, they could be the next great team.

(2) Milwaukee: The Brewers should rebound from last year's disappointment. This is basically the same team that went to the Series in '82. Just as last year, the pitching (read: Fingers, Vuckovich) is the key.

(3) Baltimore: The Birds are still solid, and it is risky to pick them this low. I'm not convinced the pitching is as deep as everyone says. If last year's phenoms stay strong, Baltimore could repeat.

(4) New York: As much as I'd like to pick the Yankees lower, I think they're the best of the rest in the East. Loss of Gossage should hurt. Another bad year in the Big Apple and you won't recognize the '85 Pinstripers.

(5) Toronto: The Bluejays were the surprise team in baseball in '83. Look for some growing pains this year, but watch this team's future. Moseby, Barfield, Steib and company might someday actually make Toronto like BB.

(6) Boston: The Sox should (as usual) put big numbers on the board. The addition of Mike (Hit Man) Easler to a lineup which includes Rice, Boggs and Armas guarantees scoring. Same old story — no pitching. Could surprise.

(7) Cleveland: The Tribe has beefed up last year's woeful offensive production just in time to see its respectable pitching staff go AWOL. It's not that they're all that bad, it's just that this Division is still very tough.

American League West:
(1) Chicago: As much as I hate to be a front-runner, it's hard to knock the Pale Hose. Potentially great pitching staff complements a solid attack and minimal competition in the division.

(2) Oakland: The A's are the best of the Worst. Off-season acquisitions like Joe Morgan have strengthened the A's and guaranteed a competitive club. By season's end they'll have neck strain, however.

(3) California: The only team with a legitimate chance to unseat the Sox. Grich, Lynn, Jackson, Carew, John — the list goes on. Veterans who've done it before. Lack of team speed and reliable pitching should do the Halos in.

(4) Texas: The Rangers showed some signs of life last year before wilting under the Texas heat and the onrush of Ugly Baseball from Chicago. Young players like Hosteller can't do it alone.

(5) Kansas City: Only in this division could the Royals be picked this highly. Ravaged by drug convictions, the lads from K.C. won't be recognizable. The attitude of veterans like Brett will play an important role.

(6) Minnesota: Only in this division ... I'd love to own the Minnesota Twins. Guys like Hrbek and Gaetti can really play, only they'll never get the chance with Calvin Griffith running the show. A good AAA team here.

(7) Seattle: The Mariners are a joke. Throughout their history they've succeeded in blending the best of both mediocrity and dullness. Give them credit, however, Gorman Thomas is fun to watch. He always gives 100 percent.

Next week: Home turf, the National League.
