industry has received exposure like never before. In fact, Wendy's ads have become so popular that some East Coast daily newspapers are running schedules to notify readers when the ads will air.

The best part about Wendy's advertising campaign is that the beef industry is gaining what we feel is very good exposure at no cost. It isn't often you truly get something for nothing, according to Dick Crow, Western Livestock Journal.

But such is the case here. Americans have a love affair with the hamburger, and Wendy's and its competitors have spent a lot of effort and money promoting and enhancing that relationship.

So how about letting Wendy's know how you feel. Why not drop them, and their advertising agency, a line expressing your appreciation for Clara Peller and the way she's brought beef into the hearts and stomachs of Americans nationwide.

Wendy's can be reached at Wendy's International Headquarters, 1488 Dublin Grandville Road, Dublin, OH, 43017. The address of the advertising agency responsible for the award-winning ads is Dancer Fitzgerald Sample Inc., 405 Lexington Ave., New York, NY 10174.

4-H Clubs Krazy Cupcakes

The Krazy Cupcakes 4-H group met on April 5 at the leaders house. President Brandi Ball opened the meeting. Secretary Heather Kandle read the minutes and took roll call. Heidi Nelson did a report on yeast.

Members then divided into groups and made rocky road squares. Amy Pointer brought treats.

The next meeting will be on April 25.

Gontys corner Yard of Month

Ed Gonty

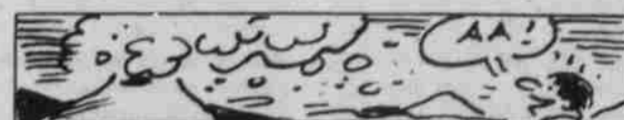

The Heppner Garden Club and the Heppner-Morrow Chamber of Commerce are honoring Eleanor and Ed Gonty from April 15 until May 15 for their garden and for the devotion and effort they have put forth in keeping the city property adjoining their yard so attractively landscaped and planted.

Both Gontys (now great-grandparents) are natives of this county. They were married on July 4, 1936, and have always made their home in Heppner, living in their present house on Gale Street all but the very first year of their marriage. It was Edmond Edward's boyhood home.

Eleanor Henrich Gonty spends countless hours working on their yard and many more hours planting, weeding and encouraging the beauty on the city-owned land above the curve where Gale and May Streets join. Just now this public area is bright with daffodils and tulips. Later it will have iris and other blooming flowers.

The Gontys are both members of the Heppner Garden Club and are the first club members to be honored with a Garden-of-the-Month Award.

The first real word in the average dictionary is probably "aa." It is the name for a kind of spongy lava.

Holly Rebekah Lodge met on Thursday evening for a regular meeting with N.G. Leila Palmer in the chair. The date for the P.N.G luncheon was changed to the second Saturday in June with registration at 11 a.m. The date was changed to eliminate a conflict with the Ione's Church Auction and dinner on the first Saturday.

Following the regular business meeting the quarterly birthday party was enjoyed.

The food sale held Saturday at Dels Market was well attended and the Rebekah Lodge members express their gratitude for all assisting and purchasing.

The Lexington Christian Church held a Sunday School Easter program. The service for Easter was conducted by Kiett Spry who was fillin in for the regular minister the Rev. Neil King of Boardman.

A fun Easter egg hunt was greatly enjoyed at the Betty Marquardt home on Sunday. Later in the day Mrs. Marquardt entertained with a dinner. Those enjoying the day were, Mr and Mrs. Jim Bloodworth and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith and Mindy, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Piper and Chip, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller and children, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Hughes and children, Jim Marquardt from the Seattle area and Mr. and Mrs. T.E. Messenger.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Padberg and children from Portland area spent the weekend at the Bill Padberg Ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Glover Peck visited friends and relatives in Mosier and Moro over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Rauch spent a couple of days in Leavenworth, Washington last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buchanan visited relatives in the Portland area over Easter.

Pat Wright entertained with a dinner at her home on Sunday. Those enjoying the day were: Irene Anhorn, Freida Majeske and Mark and Susan Wright and Pat's daughter Sandi.

Hal Schmunk, from Grange Insurance Association, Portland visited at the Cecil Jones home Thursday.

Cecil and Delpha Jones attended the Booster Night program at Columbia Grange near Hermiston Saturday evening where Delpha, as Wheatland Pamona Grange Deputy, spoke about the Grange and its work. There were several skits, musical numbers and a kitchen band. The hall was decorated with pastel colored streamers with Easter chicks and bunnies. There was an outstanding display of bed spreads, quilts, pellicas and aprons in the gingham barn yard animals Motif. A lovely dinner was enjoyed. The Master Perry Banks was in charge of the program.

Friends are grieved to hear of the recent passing at Portland of Paul Morey who was born in Lexington. He had requested no services be held.

Wheatland Pomona Grange will meet at Rufus on Saturday, April 28 at 10 a.m. All Grange members are urged to attend these Pomona meetings.

Jr. High students compete in math contest

In a contest of math speed and skill 56 students from Heppner, Ione and Columbia Junior High participated on Monday, April 19 at the Columbia Jr. High in Irrigon.

Separate contests were held for seventh and eighth graders including 27 girls and 26 boys.

Participants were chosen from the top 20 percent in contests held in the individual schools which were completed by April 4. All district junior high math students were eligible.

Acting as Master of Ceremonies, Assistant District Superintendent John Edmundson introduced contest committees for grade seven Gary Hunt and Dirk Dirksen and for grade eight Thad Killingbeck and Leslie Caldwell, all of C.H.H. Graders included Sally Edinger, Jim Kowalkowski, Del LaRue, Joyce Baker, Terry Erleback, Mike Warren, and Karen Beck.

While students completed problems of speed and general computation with additional tie breakers, parents and visitors were treated to a tour of the relatively new C.J.H. building. All contest participants were given two pre-sharpened pencils embossed with the contest logo which they used during the tests and were allowed to keep as souvenirs.

First place finishers in each grade level contest received an engraved wood plaque and the ten top finishers were given place ribbons.

Tanya Waggner from Columbia was the eighth grade champion and she scored 50 out of 55 on the eighth grade exam which included sections on speed computation and general problem solving.

Other finishers in the eighth grade competition included the following: second - Terri Meyers, Columbia; third - Kathleen Brazell, Heppner; fourth - Shannon McLaughlin, Heppner; fifth - Ryan Duncan, Heppner; sixth - Sherri Bray, Heppner; seventh - Rob Rea, Heppner; eighth - Dan Struthers, Heppner; ninth - Cathy Martin, Ione; and 10th - Mark Fishburn, Heppner.

In the seventh grade competition Michelle Beck from Ione finished first with a score of 48 out of 55 on the seventh grade exam.

The following students rounded out the top ten places in the seventh grade competition: second - Kristi Medley, Columbia; third - Jackie Paul, Columbia; fourth - Jill Payne, Columbia; fifth - Danny Peck, Columbia; sixth - Hank Johnson, Columbia; seventh - Robert Bates, Columbia; eighth - Debbie Driver, Columbia; ninth - Jon Grady, Columbia; and 10th - Benji Pearson, Heppner.

Following the award presentations, refreshments were served to contestants and a crowd of 35 parents and visitors.

District Assistant Superintendent John Edmundson, and overall director of the contest, reports that two more district-wide competitions are scheduled for the remainder of the school year. On Tuesday, May 15, the District Spelling Contest will be held at Riverside High in Boardman and on Tuesday, May 29, the District Elementary Math Contest will be held at Heppner Elementary School.

FFA banquet set May 1

Roger Records, Heppner High School Future Farmers of America advisor, reminds FFA members and their parents that the parent-member banquet will be held Tuesday, May 1, at the Heppner High School cafeteria at 6:30 p.m.

"We are planning an exciting program," said Kimberle Wright, FFA spokesperson.
