

Vacation Church School 59 youngsters enrolled at VBS set next week at IUCC

Vacation Church School at the Ione United Church of Christ begins June 18 at the Educational Building. Classes will be held Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to noon each morning that week.

Students from age three through those entering the eighth grade are invited to come explore the theme, "God's People: Living with Promise." The week's activities include stories, games, crafts, worship, and singing. A film and a field trip are also planned.

The supervisor for the week will be Barry Cammer, summer intern minister at the Ione U.C.C. reports the Rev. Cathy Barker. A student at Pacific School of Religion, he will lead group time and teacher's meetings as well as being involved in all the classes.

Teachers for Vacation Church School include Cindy Schultz and Tonya Heideman, preschool; JoAnn King, primary; Cindy Osterlund, intermediate; and the Rev. Cathy Barker, junior high. Several high school girls will be helpers. Cathy Halvorsen will coordinate refreshments.

A donation of $1 per student is asked to help defray the cost of books and supplies. A daily offering will be received for Heifer Project International.

On Friday, June 22, a sharing program will be held for families and friends at 7:30 p.m.

Five-year-olds and kindergartners participate in the recreational time at Bible School.

Vacation Bible School is underway this week with 59 students enrolled at All Saints Episcopal and the United Methodist Churches in Heppner. The Inter-denominational church school is also sponsored by the Hope Lutheran Church, where babysitting is provided for teachers whose youngsters are not yet Bible-school age.

The PNG Club of Holly Rebekah Lodge met at the Kate's Pizza Parlor in Heppner on Wednesday for a regular meeting. Lovely miniature vases and artificial flowers were used at each table setting for decorations. Plans were made for the luncheon scheduled for Saturday and visiting was enjoyed. The hostesses were Hilda Yocom and Virginia Peck. Those present were Catie Padberg, Joyce Buchanan, Donna Papi-neau, Ruth Robinson, Delpha Jones, Leila Palmer, Dorothy Burcham and the hostesses. The September meeting will be with the hostess Joyce Buchanan.

Holly Rebekah Lodge met on Thursday for a regular meeting with the N.G. Leila Palmer presiding. Plans were made for a food sale, especially fruit pies, for the Sidewalk Bazaar in July in Heppner and the PNG luncheon on Saturday. The delegates from the State Assembly, Leila Palmer and Virginia Peck gave interesting reports on the activities and brought home the new elected President's program and music. Refreshments were served.

Holly Rebekah Lodge wishes to invite members and friends to a public card party and potluck dinner on Saturday evening at 6:30 p.m. in honor of Fathers. There will be no charge and it is hoped that the friends from the winter card parties and others will make an effort to attend. The PNG luncheon on Saturday was held at the Rebekah Hall with 32 people attending. Door prizes were given, and a gift to the oldest one there was won by Ruby Roberts of Ione. The tables were lovely with bouquets of spring flowers with candles and napkins to match. The Sweet Adeline Chapter, quartet sang several lovely songs before lunch. The charter members of the Holly PNG Club were delightfully surprised when seated at the head table. Those being, Frieda Majeske, Catie Padberg, Leila Palmer, and Delpha Jones. Each guest was presented a gift, and given 10 minutes to trade with another guest. Joyce Buchanan read "Getting Old," the quartet sang a fun song and Frances Smouse played solos which were enjoyed before the closing of the "entertaining and renewing acquaintances" afternoon. Visitors were present from Pauline, Integrity, Bunchgrass, SanSouci, and Holly.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Wilcox of Maine, were callers at the C.C. Jones ranch and the Kennison home in Heppner, on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Berl Akers and Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Jones were among those attending the reception at Columbia Grange in Hermiston on Sunday honoring Mr. and Mrs. Morton Wolverton. He is the newly elected Master of the Oregon State Grange.

Holly Rebekah Lodge Hall will be the scene on June 18th at 1:30 p.m. for a public miscellaneous bridal shower honoring a member, Mildred (Millie) Yocom. She and William West will be married June 23, at the Christian Life Center in Heppner with a reception following at the I.O.O.F. Hall in Lexington. Lexington Grange will meet Tuesday, June 18 at Cutsforth's cabin for a potluck dinner and meeting. Hamburgers, salads, and desserts are planned. All members are cordially invited. This will be the last regular meeting until Sept.

To Our Customers and Friends:

We at Central Market wish to express our gratitude for the support and encouragement offered during our recent remodeling project.

Your patience and tolerance has been appreciated and we look forward to serving you in the future.

We are proud of our lovely new store and we thank Dennis Miller and David Allstott, (and Penny and Patti), our local contractors and their crew for all their hard work and perseverance in completing a job well done.

We also thank Ray Ayers, Refrigeration & Heating, Lc't's Electric, Pettyjohns, M & R Floor Covering, Lexington Lumber, Maurie Groves & Joe Miller and all who worked on our project, including Chuck Marquardt, who hand carved our sign.

We take pride that all our contractors were local business people and all materials used were purchased locally.

Thank you, too, to the Little League parents and the cheerleaders and all who worked to make our Grand Opening a success.

Thanks everyone for the beautiful plants, flowers, gifts and good wishes!

We take this opportunity to express our appreciation to the employees of Central Market for working hard and sticking with us throughout the project. You're a great bunch of people and we appreciate you very much.

And last, but most important, a big thank you to Bob, Aloha & Chris, for relocating their businesses and letting it all happen.
