Yanyong Charanyananda, a director of education of a Thailand province was in Heppner where he studied the county-wide educational system in an agricultural area.

50 Years Ago

November 1, 1934
"The withdrawal of W.C. Cox from the race of mayor, leaving W.W. Smead unopposed for that office, was the major development on the local political horizon this week, with only four days remaining until voters go to the polls to mark their ballots next Tuesday. As the situation now stands there is only one candidate for each of the city offices to be filled, so no contest exist."

IUCC garden exchange nets check for Center

The Ione United Church of Christ has collected $52.50 for the Heppner Neighborhood Center through its Garden Exchange Program reports the Rev. Cathy Barker.
Throughout the growing season, church members bring produce from their gardens to the church. During Coffee Hour, the congregation "shops"--leaving a donation for whatever items they take. The amount collected goes to the Heppner Neighborhood Center for medical emergencies. Any surplus food is distributed locally.
"The Garden Exchange is dandy because everyone benefits," states the Rev. Barker. "Gardeners distribute their surplus, non-gardeners have fresh produce, and the hungry in this area have a little more to eat."
