Lexington News

By Delpha Jones 989-8189

Erda Pieper has returned to her home after a stay in St. Anthony's Hospital where she underwent major surgery and Pioneer Memorial Hospital where she did some recuperating. A recent visitor was her daughter, LaVelle Brown of Newport, Oregon and a grandson Gary Dick who will remain for a longer visit. Marsha Hall will be visiting her this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smouse, Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Jones and Jean Nelson are those from Lexington Grange attending Pomona at Mikkalo. The Joneses and Buchanan motored to Rufus where they enjoyed the Grange pancake supper and cards.

The candle and ribbon party sponsored by the Lexington Grange, and held at the home of Barbara Cutsforth was well attended.

Janet Balfe of Anchorage, Alaska is visiting her son Scott, and her parents Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Palmer. While here they all attended the Rea wedding in Hermiston. Miss Rea is the grandaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer and Norma Rea of Ione.

Jean Nelson has returned after a visit with her daughter Kristin at Salem and while they all enjoyed a rest at Lincoln City.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smouse have been recent visitors to Salem to visit their son, Karl.

Visitors at the L.E. Ruhl have been Ken Ackerman of West Linn, and son John Robertson and Dick Hamrick and son Danny of Bend.

Rebekah Lodge met on Thursday evening for the regular meeting and to plan for the Rebekah Assembly President Sharon Magdens visit on Thursday evening Nov. 1.

The Lexington Church now has prayer meetings at the church every Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. and church services in the Sunday evenings at 7:30. There is a Ladies Bible study at the home of Bertha Sager on Thursday mornings.

Bertha Sager and Betty Marquardt were tri-city business visitors last week.

Mark Piper of California is visiting his parents Del and Phyllis Piper as well as other relatives.

Sharon Magden, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Oregon, paid her official visit to Holly Rebekah Lodge on Thursday evening November 1. The evening started with dinner served in the dining room, from tables decorated with fall arrangements, floating candles. Following the dinner the meeting was called to order by the NG Leila Palmer. The President was introduced, as was DDP Hilda Yocom of Holly. The introduction committee consisted of Delpha Jones, Ruth Robinson and Annetta Padberg. At this time the guests were presented gifts.

The memorial was held with the girls carrying flowers and lighted candles. Those taking part were Hilda Yocom, Joyce Buchanan, Virginia Peck, Frances Peck and the musician, Leita Messenger. The President gave a most instructive talk on her projects the Educational Loan Fund, and Friendship Fund. These funds are most beneficial to the lodges, and each Lodge in the state is asked to take part in these projects.

An election of officers was held with the following elected: Virginia Peck, NG; Kathy Tellechea, V.G.; Delpha Jones, Secretary; Dorothy Burcham, Treasurer; and three year trustee, Leila Palmer.

The next meeting will be the Thanksgiving meeting, and there will be a turkey dinner with the Lodge furnishing the main course and members and their guests bringing desserts and salads. Coffee and dessert was served later in the dining room. There were visitors present from Bunchgrass and Sans-Souci.

Gladys VanWinkle from Salem spent several days last week in Heppner and Lexington visiting with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Jones spent the weekend in Hood River, where Delpha Jones, Wheatland Pomona Deputy spoke at Booster night for Parkdale Grange. It was an enjoyable time for members and guests, with dancing by a group from Hood River, a skit, and special music and a dinner. They visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Henderson enroute home.

Guests at the Erda Pieper home have been a daughter and husband Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hall of Portland, and their daughter and husband Mr. and Mrs. David Wright.

The card party sponsored by the Rebekahs was held Saturday with six tables of players present. The next scheduled party will be the December 1 at the hall.

Debbie Jones and daughters from Echo visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Yocom over the weekend.

Leila Palmer and Virginia Peck attended the Northwest Oddfellow meeting in Pendleton on Saturday. There were about 175 people present for the fine banquet and program. The speaker for the evening was Mary Cook, executive secretary of the United Pilgrimage for Youth, from New York City. A fine time was enjoyed by all.

'Annie' practice in full swing

By MONIQUE ALLAN

(Editor's note: The following is a reprint of an article Allan wrote for the HeHisch used by permission of the author.)

Imagine yourself in a world of confusion, dreaming only of the hope that your parents will come for you. Imagine the thrill of being rescured by a rich man and living in a mansion, a life totally new to you. This is what happens to Annie, the title character in the Heppner High Drama Club's fall musical "Annie".

"Annie" shows a comic strip story of Little Orphan Annie and her exploits with Daddy Warbucks, Annie's friends in the orphanage, the lady who runs the orphanage and President Roosevelt.

With tryouts having been in early October, the cast will have about two months of practice under its belt when the curtain unfolds on Nov. 29 and 30.

Wanda Riley takes on the load as Annie, and her talent shines through on stage. Daddy Warbucks is portrayed by Dave Sinkevitch, while Theresa Lindsay plays the drunken Miss Hannigan.

Director Larry Cerullo remarked, "It is a pretty big play and there seems to be a lot of enthusiasm for it. Our rehersals are early in the morning and some at night and we hope that the enthusiasm continues."

There are over 20 people involved in the play, a group displaying a wide range of talent. More student involvement is still needed before production dates, mainly help backstage and with the lighting.

"At the moment, things are going slow with trouble getting people to rehearsals and trying to get a full hour's work in," commented Cerullo. "But the play will be super in the end."

"Annie" was chosen because of its popularity; it is one that most of the community knows.

"Attendance to our productions has been low over the past three years. Hopefully this play will be more to the public's liking," said Cerullo.

Fair's point rating increases

By JUSTINE WEATHERFORD

The hard-working Morrow County Fair Board was pleased by the Oregon County Fair Commission's annual report which reached them recently. It boosted the fair's point rating up 29 points from 859 in 1983 to 888 for this year.

Especially praised was the larger participation by Boardman and Irrigon citizens, the outside floral arrangements, the new crafts area, the overall carrying out of the fair theme and the improved organization of the exhibits.

According to Jane Rawlins, fair chairman, any rating from 800 to 920 points is called a silver rating. This year's 888 is the highest score ever achieved by a Morrow County Fair. To qualify for a gold rating and alittle better percentage of state funds, the fair must score 920 points--which is the goal set for next year's event.

The rating of Morrow's fair was done by John "Jiggs" Fisk, chairman of the Oregon County Fair Commission, a Pendleton resident, who carefully scored it on five major categories: management, community participation, showmanship, physical plant and a comprehensive summary.

On the final page of the report evaluator Fisk states, "I saw improvements that have been made since I was here in 1980--new fence along the highway, better parking arrangement, the livestock building painted and new sewer lines. Also more exhibitors and exhibits from the north end of the county.

His concluding statement under "overall conditions of grounds and buildings and total and final impression" reads: "Fair has made gradual progress in physical plant maintainance and exhibits since 1980. This shows in the increase in points by evaluators. Fair is "high exceptional" in exhibits. Fair was moved ahead one week this year. Budget is so small they can hardly keep up with maintainance of the physical plant."

It has been announced that the 1985 fair and rodeo will be held simultaneously during the week of August 11-18.

Legal secretaries meet

The Pendleton Area Legal Secretaries Association will meet on Tuesday, November 20 at 7 p.m. for a dinner meeting at Frasu's Restaurant in Hermiston, followed by a talk by Mike Schaefer on postal regulations and procedures.

New fabric store opens in Ione

Darcene Meyers of Ione has recently opened "The Fabric Kloset" in her home at Third and "B" Streets. She has purchased partial inventory from the Lostine, Oregon fabric shop which closed in mid October. Her stock includes a variety of fabrics and colors including fancy lace, wedding material, upholstry fabric, velvet, trims and craft and Christmas materials. Meyers says that she is also willing to display craft items which she will sell on consignment. The Fabric Kloset is open evenings and weekends. For further information, call 422,7538.

Card party slated

Eastern Star will sponsor a card party at the Masonic Hall in Heppner on Saturday, Nov. 10, at 8 p.m.

The public is invited to come for pinochle, bridge and refreshments.

HHS slates open house

Heppner High School will hold an open house on Thursday, November 15 at 7:30 p.m. Parents and others who may be interested are invited to attend.

Everyone is asked to meet in the cafetorium at 7:30 p.m. for orientation said a spokesperson for the event. Class schedules will be distributed to parents so that they may attend a shortened version of their son or daughter's classes.
