Local youth return from Mexico City

Shelley Biddle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Biddle and Shawn Holt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Holt, both of Heppner left Seattle December 13 along with several hundred other Seventh-day Adventist youth, young adults and sponsors for Mexico City to the Pan American Youth Congress.

The first part of their 12-day trip was spent touring Mexico City and the surrounding area. They visited Cathedrals, historical sites, Tasco, the "silver capitol of Mexico," and the pyramids.

The Pan American Youth Congress started December 18 and lasted through December 21. The Youth Congress sought to cross national boundaries and bridge cultural gaps by bringing together 8000 delegates from the western hemisphere said a Seventh-day Adventist spokesperson. Delegates came from as far north as Gambel, Alaska on St. Lwarence Island in the Bering Sea, 40 miles from Siberia and as far south as Fuego on the southern tips of South America.

Boarman reports for Germany duty

Army 2nd Lt. Joseph C. Boarman, son of Robert E. and Mary J. Boarman, Seattle, has arrived for duty in Miesau, West Germany.

Boarman, a platoon leader and training officer with the 59th Ordnance Brigade, was previously assigned at Fort McClellan, Ala.

His wife, Jacelyn, is the daughter of John Mollahan of Heppner, and Millicent Herrling of The Dalles.

He is a 1984 graduate of Eastern Oregon State College, La Grande.
