Letters to the Editor

Notes bike-a-thon efforts

To the Editor: The Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon drew only five participants, but they were five determined participants who together pedaled over 70 miles. Recognition is deserving of these dedicated five: Brody Struckmeier, Brian Struckmeier, Tammy Bruch, Jeremy Clark, and Jenny Krein. The exact amount raised by these youngsters hasn't been determined, but it nears three hundred dollars. We thank the generous people from Heppner who sponsored them.

Special thanks is extended to Cindy Sumner and Lori Rhea for volunteering time "to man" the check stations.

Because of the generous giving from the bicyclists, sponsors, and volunteers, children with Cystic Fibrosis are given the gift of hope that research will one day soon bring positive results.
