

'Big Tom's' art makes transition from windows to stationery

Known to most Heppnerites only from the side or back because when he's in town he's painting windows—green for St. Patrick's Day or western for Fair and Rodeo time—"Big Tom" Simonton has a new line of stationery, note cards, post cards and a limited edition (2,000 copies) of a Pendleton Round-Up coloring book. An idea posed by Darlene Smith as a promotion for the 75th anniversary of the Pendleton event, the line of Simonton's art features his familiar detailed style of cartooning.

A retired mail carrier, "Big Tom's" cartooning business has grown from about five business windows in 1946 to an expected 150 or so this year for the Round-Up alone. Unique among window cartoonists, Simonton's art not only features the event which is being promoted but also includes aspects of the type of business doing the promotion.

Cowpoke Cartoons stationery, calendar, and coloring book will be on display at Mycal's in Heppner and at a booth located at Ranch Market in Pendleton during the Round-Up.

Area students to compete at spelling contest

Kelly Spray and Terry Meyers of Boardman and Trina Palmer of Heppner, will compete in a state championship spelling contest Saturday, August 31, at the State Fair.

The event will be held at the Gazebo on the north end of the fairgrounds. Students in grades 1-6 will compete at 10:30 a.m., grades 7-9 at 11:15 a.m., and grades 10-12 at noon.

The contests will not be like the traditional spelling bee. Instead of spelling the words orally, students will have ten seconds to write each of the 30 words on paper after it is pronounced, used in a sentence and pronounced again.

Mike Donahue, news anchorman for KOIN-TV in Portland, will give the words.

First, second and third place winners will be announced following each contest. State School Supt. Verne A. Duncan will present awards to the winners at a ceremony at 1 p.m. First place winners will receive Commodore Computers from Computron, Inc. of Portland.

The event is sponsored by the Oregon Council of Teachers of English and the Oregon Department of Education.

An old-fashioned spelling bee will be held at 2 p.m. at the Gazebo. Everyone is invited to participate. Awards will be given.
