

Weddings Sweeney-McMinn

Brenda McMinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMinn of Heppner, became the bride of Greg Sweeney, the son of Jerry Sweeney of White City, on June 21, 1985 at St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Heppner. The Rev. Brian J. McGovern officiated at the nuptial mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long organza trimmed taffeta gown with seed pearls at the neck and hemline. She wore a pearl necklace borrowed from Ginger Keithley and carried a bouquet of lavender roses.

Maid of honor was Tiffany Lawson; Trisha Sweeney was the bridesmaid. Best man was Kenny Stookey of Heppner; Pat Sweeney was usher.

Brooke Sweeney and Cameron Sweeney, niece and nephew of the bridegroom were flower girl and ring bearer. Corey Sweeney and John Steagall were the altar boys. Nichol Sweeney was in care of the guest book.

Wedding music was provided by soloist Jim Ackley of Irrigon and organist Carley Drake of Heppner.

The bride is a 1985 graduate of Heppner High School. She is employed at Heppner Bowl.

The bridegroom is a 1981 Heppner High School graduate and is employed by Kinzua Corp.

The couple are now living in Heppner.

Garden Bugs

The regular meeting of the Lexington Garden Bugs was held on Thursday at the home of Luella Taylor.

At this time a new member, Peggy Rawley, was welcomed into the club.

The sign for the park is completed and in place as members expressed their pleasures in this project.

A discussion on the Morrow County Fair was held with suggestions, to improve the flower division. These will be sent to the Fair Committee.

There are still a few candles available which may be purchased from any club member.

Under new business the group voted to plant four more trees; two sun bursh locust; one sugar maple and one group of weeping birch. It is hoped that this will provide the needed shade for picnickers. Bleeding hearts will be planted around the trees to help with the mowing of the grass.

The annual fall plant and bulb sale will be October 4 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Special orders can be placed through the club. Pie and coffee will be served.

The yard of the month winners were Harrison and Dorris Raymond.

They live at 368 W. Water St. where they moved about a year ago and have transformed a dry cow pasture into a yard of beauty.

The next meeting will be at Delta Huber's with a program on gaurds, pumpkins and Indian corn.

Those present were Lois Allyn, Dorothy Burcham, Kathy Tellechea, Eula Bloodworth, Frances Murty, Marie Steagall, Peggy Rowly and the hostess.

PNG Club of, of Holly Lodge Past Noble Grand Club of Holly Lodge met on Wednesday for a regular luncheon meeting at the V & G Cafe. Plans were discussed concerning some trees at the cemetery. Hopefully these can be planted this fall.

The table was centered with a bouquet of roses and, at each place, a favor from the hostess Virginia Peck. Those present were, Dorothy Burcham, Ruth Robinson, Donna Papineau, Delpha Jones, the co-hostess Helda Yocom and hostess.

The next meeting will be at the home of Delpha Jones with Dorothy Burcham as co-hostess.

Holly Lodge

Plans for fall activities was the main business of Holly Lodge on third Tuesday, but since August 17 is election day, the meeting was rescheduled for August 24. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Heppner Happenings

Mrs. Alena Anderson was especially pleased with her weekend guests. Her daughter and son-in-law Dee and Jim Erdmann, of Portland, were here and helped her in various ways, such as yard work, fixing fences, and minor repairs to the house. Only those who no longer find it easy to keep up their home and yard can really realize what a wonderful gift a few hours work in home and yard can mean.

Word was received by Mrs. Edna Bailey that Mrs. Irene Yackley had passed away. The Yackleys lived here during the 1960s and their two sons, Tim and Joe, graduated from high school here. Irene and her husband, Cal, had been operating a dairy in Washington, assisted by their sons. Services were held in the Chehalis Lutheran Church.

Mrs. C.N. (Marvel) Jones celebrated her 96th birthday on September 5 with a party at the nursing home. Mrs. Jones and her husband were wheat farmers until his death. She is the mother of Paul Jones, former County Judge and rancher, Floyd Jones and Marcel Jones, ranchers, and a daughter.

Vern and Florence Nolan were honored by their children and foster daughter on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary with a gift of a weekend at Kah Nee-Ta Resort at Warm Springs. On being shown to their room, they found a basket of fruit, a gift from the manager. A banquet was held in the Juniper Room with 19 in attendance. An ice sculpture of the numbers 25 were featured in the decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Skillicorn, Terry Nolan and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Herriman were the hosts.

Miss Lisa Clapp, a biology student from the University of Oregon has been visiting the Carl McDaniels.

Thursday for a regular meeting with the N.G. Virginia Peck presiding. The Oddfollows will be entertained at next lodge meeting with a roast beef dinner to start off their fall meetings. A baked food sale is planned for September 27 at Del's Market.

Plans were discussed for planting boxes of flowers for the Lexington Cemetery for Memorial Day and summer months. A committee of Annetta Padberg, Virginia Peck, Dorothy Burcham and Delpha Jones was appointed for this. The first card party for the fall is planned for the second Saturday in October at 8 p.m. Pinochle will be played, prizes awarded and refreshments served. The committee appointed Annetta Padberg and Delpha Jones. A date for the fall bazaar was discussed and will be set some time nearer the holidays. Refreshments were served.

Lexington Grange

Let's not forget the Grange Booster day and potluck dinner on Sunday. The corner stone set in August 1935 will be opened. A program of special music, history of the Grange, and a talk on the Grange by Bob and Sandi Ludi the Assistant Steward and L.A. Assistant and Outstanding National Grange Couple of 1984. A potluck dinner will be served at 1 p.m. All are cordially invited for the day.

She is a student of Professor Kenneth Shindledecker, visiting professor of Mammology at the University of Oregon, who is an old friend of Carl McDaniel. He recently visited here during deer season. Lisa has been studying deer and elk and spent most of her time at the mountain cabin of the McDaniels. She took hikes and generally studied the area. Mr. McDaniel acted as her guide. They saw raccoons and small animals, but no deer or coyotes. She will qualify for her teachers certificate next year.

Scotty Applegate, nephew of Lincoln Nash, stopped on his way home Monday from Pilot Rock where he had visited his son. The Applegates formerly resided in Heppner and now live in Hood River.

Frances Oslund, daughter of Mrs. Wavel Wilkinson, is visiting relatives here.

The 60th wedding anniversary of Bill and Callie Huddleston of Hermiston, was celebrated with a family gathering at the Hermiston CRC Center recently. Tom and Garnet Huddleston and Billie Jean and Kenneth Waud, children of the couple, were hosts for the affair. The anniversary cake was tiered with a 60 on top, and was made by Garnet Huddleston. Linda (Mrs. Joe) Gilleese sang two songs. Over 100 people attended, coming from Boise, Idaho, Washington; California; and Oregon. People from Heppner attending were Jim and Patty Lankford and son, Cliff, Jim and Nancy Lankford, Rusty and Frances Orwick, and Mrs. Sadie Parrish. Jack and Elaine Parrish and Rick and Beth Parrish from Portland were present, having spent the weekend with Jack's mother, Sadie Parrish. Rick is the son of Raymond Parrish, elder son of Mrs. Parrish.

Cow Belles slate meeting

The Morrow County CowBelles will hold a noon meeting Wednesday, Sept. 18 at Kate's Pizza and Pastry in Heppner. Following the no-host luncheon, business discussed will include reports from CowBelle activities at the Morrow County Fair and planning for the annual meeting.
