By MARYANN CERULLO
The Heppner High School Drama Club has announced their upcoming production of "Be Deckin' The Halls," a Christmas comedy, scheduled for Thursday and Friday, Dec. 12 and 13.
Curtain time will be 7:30 p.m., both nights, at the H.H.S. cafeteria.
The play aims to be good family entertainment for the holiday season with the story centered around teenagers and their not so traditional Christmas ideas and manners.

This year's first play for the drama club is unique in introducing several new talents. Ken Curtis, although a veteran actor with the drama club, showed a new talent as director. Assisting him was drama club advisor, Larry Cerullo with added help from Linda Dutcher. The play also has the new faces of Lana Reid who plays Dianne; J.J.

Osmin as Mother; Marion McMillan as Father; Sean Warren plays as Jack; and Donna O'Neil as Constance.
Returning performers for the drama club include Jim Wornell who plays Arnold, the main character; Kym Warren as Carol; and Sophi Struthers plays Miss Gertrude.
There will be a short intermission with refreshments served. Tickets will be sold at the door, $2.50 for adults and $1.00 for children 12 years and under.

First Christian slates program, film

The First Christian Church will be presenting a Christmas program this Sunday morning, Dec. 15, at 11 a.m. The children of the Sunday School department will be singing songs, reciting poems, and performing finger plays which will help us celebrate the season. "We hope to draw attention, through this means, to the meaning of Christmas," said the Rev. Don Shelton. We do want to invite everyone to come and join us for this celebration.
In the evening, at 7 p.m. there will be a film shown from "Underground Evangelism" which concerns the plight of Christians behind The Iron Curtain. "We will be receiving a freewill offering for the work of this mission," Shelton said. "We hope everyone will come and see this film and really appreciate the freedom we have in this country to worship as we please."

For more information about these or any of the other services of the church call 676-9209.
