Again someone has taken the time to place a Christmas tree on the roof of the City Hall. As one drives into town, a real welcome and cheery sight through the fog and snow - and one must not forget the beautiful star at the Lexington Airport. To all who have taken the time for this fine Christmas cheer the community is "thankful." A beautiful time is the Christmas holidays with lighted home and lovely trees in the windows and the feeling of caring, sharing and great love.

Lexington Grange met on Monday evening for the regular Christmas meeting. A fine dinner was enjoyed at 6:30 p.m. followed by the Christmas program. Special music was provided by Cheryl Smouse and Mother Frances. Other entertainment included: group singing led by Linda Marquardt with pianist Doug Marquardt the story of St. Nick by Cheryl Smouse. A Christmas story by Stuart Dick. Christmas treats for the small ones, a reading by Delpha Jones and closing group singing.

A short business meeting was held with the nomination of officers for state officers and the regular business. It was announced that Geri Martin will be the CWA Pomona Chairman for 1986. A gift exchange was enjoyed with the gifts being hand made by the giver. There were several guests present.

The Amicilia Club yearly Christmas was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lovgren on Wednesday evening. The yard has two large decorated trees with hand made carolers and each room is decorated in the Christmas Motif including Christmas trees, a beautiful hand-made nativity set and many elves, Santas, reindeer etc., a really lovely setting for a party. Refreshments were available throughout the evening and each guest received a 1985 Christmas mug and glass with the highlight of the evening the gift exchange. Prizes were won by Aloina Padberg - high, Beebe Munkers - second high, Lucille Massey - low.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Henderson of Hood River visited Thursday at the C.C. Jones home on Sunday the Steort Smith formerly of Hermiston visited at the Jones home.

Mrs. Leland Jones and infant daughter visited her parents Hilda and Joe Yocom for a couple of days from her home in Pendleton.

The PNG Club met at the Cecil Jones home on Tuesday with a luncheon meeting at 12:30. The house was decorated in the Christmas motif and each guest has a small token at the luncheon table. An exchange of gifts was enjoyed. An election of officers was chairman Joyce Buchanan, vice-chairman Hilda Yocom, secretary-treasurer Virginia Peck. The door prize was won by Virginia Peck. Those present were: Leila Palmer, Ruth Robinson, Donna Papineau, Joyce Buchanan, Virginia Peck, Hilda Yocom, guests Annetta Padberg, Kathy Tellechea and the hosts Dorothy Buchum and Delpha Jones.

Entrepreneurship class active

The 61 stockholders of the lone student corporation, Products of Pride, received dividend checks last week following a decision by the class Board of Directors to pay a 50 percent dividend, reports a PoP spokesperson. In previous years the student corporation declared a dividend in mid-January, but postponed payment until later in the spring.

This year the corporation paid the dividend earlier, following the successful conclusion of the first four months of operation.

Silkscreened sweatshirts with an original design by Sandi Wright were marketed through October and November, continued the spokesperson. Novelty wooden picture frames, a wooden duck pushtoy, and canvas bookbags were successfully marketed in December.

The next product, in the planning stages, consists of a card file box with a collection of favorite recipes and Morrow County historical trivia. While the recipes are being collected and typeset, the class will engage in manufacturing the boxes at the lone High School shop. Shareholders of the corporation have been invited to submit their favorite recipes, but anyone is welcome to join the fun by sending their unusual, unique or historical recipes to Products of Pride at Box 167, lone. One Swedish recipe that has been handed down for four generations has already been promised.

Members of the class this year include juniors Deena Hams, Candi Rudisill, Patti McElligott, Sandi Wright, Kim McCabe, and senior Rod Taylor. Marvin Peterson and Anna Morford team-teach the course, a joint offering of the Industrial Arts and Business Education departments at lone High School.

Wedding time changed

Due to a church scheduling conflict the wedding of Kristi Edmundson and Mark Smalley has been changed from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 28. It will be held at

Our Lady of Angels Catholic Church in Hermiston. A reception will follow in the church parrish hall.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Funds plaque yearbook at lone

Several years of mounting costs and declining sales brought the lone Schools Annual, The Ionian, to a crisis point in September 1985, said advisor to the group, Anna Morford. With little money for publication, the lone High School Student Council appealed to all classes and organizations for advice and help. Each class contributed 10 percent of their funds to see the continuation of the yearbook, continued Morford. With the help of interested business contributors and some fund-raising events, the staff hopes to meet the cost of publication, set at around $1500 for the 1986 book.

The first major fund-raising event is planned for January 3, 1986, when the Annual Staff will sponsor a Spaghetti Feed at the first of the home games played by the high school teams. Though few in number, the Annual Staff is hopeful that their efforts this year will end deficit spending, putting the yearbook back on an even financial footing. veteran staff members Patti McElligott and Deena Hams will be assisted by Brian Ball and Dustin Padberg in compiling the 1986 yearbook.

Heppner Happenings

By Mary Bryant 676-9493

In last week's news, in the account of the Degree of Honor Christmas party, I neglected to add that we had a party crasher. Shortly after the meeting started, Alice Soward from Boise, Idaho called to add her bit. She states that she is in her wheelchair pretty much of the time, but she was in good spirits and it certainly added a lot to the party. Thanks, Alice, for the wonderful surprise!

Rev. Don Shelton and his wife, Delores held open house for the members of the Heppner Christian Church on Friday night. Kathryn Hoskins reports that there were lots of goodies and it was a most enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Frances Mitchell and her granddaughter, Charlotte, are visiting at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, George and Lorene Griffith, of lone. Mrs. Mitchell is the sister of Mrs. Hoskins.

returned recently from a tour that took them to Las Vegas for the National Rodeo Finals. Mr. Green is reported to be feeling quite well after his serious surgery earlier this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Keithley will have a guest for the Christmas holidays, their granddaughter, Tina, from Ulah. Tina is the daughter of the former Janet Keithley, daughter of the Keithleys.

Mrs. Carl McDaniel will meet her daughter, Georgina, in Arlington, tomorrow. She is coming from her home in Salem for the holidays.

College students seen home for the holidays are Michael Bergstrom, David Green, Dennis Warren, and Jim Cason. I'm sure there are many others and would welcome calls from them of their parents telling of their activities.

Cornett and Florence Green have Merry Christmas to all.

Let's build together for the future of our children and the strength of our nation.

A very prosperous New Year, all.
