

Ekstroms chosen Ione's Oct. Yard of Month

Nancy and Herb Ekstrom have been selected as the October Yard of the Month recipients.

Although one notices the neat plantings of trees and shrubs at their home from the street, the real beauty of their yard is found in the other areas with roses, dahlias and other flowers in season to present a homey atmosphere. The floor has been painted green and they have a picnic table as well as chairs for relaxing.

Recently they added a solarium which makes a wonderful room for entertaining and recreation. There is a planter box with foliage plants next to the wall which is surrounded by glass windows to the ceiling and on the vaulted roof. All in all it is a very pleasant place to live indoors and outdoors.

Esther Minnick receives Creative Hands Award

By Delpha Jones

The Oregon Extension Homemakers County Council met at the office in Heppner on Monday morning. Seven members were present. Vice Chairman Isabelle Jones of Irrigon presided at the meeting. There were several reports heard, one of them about the fair booth in Heppner. The Creative Hands award given each year by the council went this year to Esther Minnick of Boardman. This award is for the most blue ribbons in open class at the fair.

A discussion on Homemaker's Day was held with the date of April 23 chosen. The Ione Study group will serve as hostesses.

Committees for the year were chosen as follows: membership - Pat Denning; safety - Charlotte Carpenter; FCL - Marlene Currin; international - Cindy Osterlund. It is hoped that many of this county can attend the OEHC District No. 7 meeting in LaGrande on Thursday, Oct. 30 at the EOSC campus. This group will put on a skit, "The Pushbutton Radio", with five characters in the comedy.

There was some discussion of a fall bus trip to an Arts and Crafts show or to some other place of interest. The members from Irrigon are having a table at the Arts and Crafts show at Columbia Center in the Tri-Cities on Nov. 1.

The Two County advisory meeting, will be held in December. Marlene Currin invited the group to meet at her home on December 8 at 10 a.m. with a potluck dinner and a gift exchange of handmade items. Home Extension provides education and recreation for women and an invitation is open to anyone who is interested.

Heppner Happenings

By Mary Bryant, 676-9493

Recent guests of Mrs. Alena Anderson were Jim and Dee Erdmann, who came on Thursday and left on Saturday. Nancy McLennan came on Saturday and left on Sunday. The ladies are daughters of Mrs. Anderson, and while here, they celebrated her 80th birthday. They helped with various chores about the house. Among the cards received by the honoree was a card from President and Nancy Reagan.

Mrs. Mary Goheen, a member of the Pacific Northwest Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society, recently returned from a railway trip sponsored by the group. On the journey from Portland to Spokane, they went over the old S.P. & S. tracks along the Snake River. At Spokane they stayed at the Redpath Hotel where they were offered a sumptuous buffet for breakfast. They proceeded on to Edmond, which is north of Seattle. Leaving the train they boarded a ferry for a tour of the harbor. They left the boat at the pier in Seattle and boarded the train for the trip back to Portland. An interesting sidelight is the fact that Connie McCready, former Mayor of Portland, and her husband acted as hosts for the trip and apparently do this quite often. Sounds like a fascinating outing.

Word has been received by friends in Heppner that Lorna Borman has undergone major surgery at Yakima. Mrs. Borman and her husband Dick were long-time residents of Heppner before their move to Yakima.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Jensen of LaGrande were weekend visitors in this area. Mr. Jensen and his brother-in-law Lee Palmer hunted together.

Ron and Sandra Adams were guests of her mother, Mrs. Doll Campbell, for the weekend. They were accompanied by Jim and Kathy Rodabaugh and their son, Anthony. They hunted while here.

Mrs. Hilda Merkel of McLaughlin, S. Dakota, sister of Mrs. Ida Farra, has returned to her home. Mr. and Mrs. Don Broucek of Rapid City, S.D., and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Buechler of Great Falls, Mont. arrived here on Tuesday and left on Saturday morning. The two ladies are daughters of Mrs. Merkel and were here to see she got home safely and to visit with their aunt, Mrs. Farra.

Mrs. Maxine Gray had laser surgery on her knee at the Hermiston Hospital recently. She was able to leave the hospital the same day and is recuperating at home.

Mrs. Gail Rowell and her children, Julie and Daniel, were weekend guests of her parents, Fred and Kathryn Hoskins.

Mrs. Frances Mitchell and Mrs. Vawter (Alberta) Parker left last week for a vacation in Hawaii. They plan to be gone for approximately two weeks.

Gordon Ross, son-in-law of Mrs. Mildred Padberg and his friend, Bob Birnie, of Canby, were overnight guests of Mrs. Padberg. They were here for the hunting. Edwin Tucker, of Salem, son of Mrs. Padberg, was a weekend guest of Bill Nichols of Lexington, Oregon.

Miss Phyllis Brunson of Portland was a guest of Mrs. Mary Bryant and Mrs. Ida Lynn for the past two weeks. She returned to her home on Saturday.

4-H Clubs

Two trackers

By Kathleen Brazell

The Two-Trackers 4-H Horse Club has started another busy year. On Wednesday, Sept. 17, the Two-Trackers held their first meeting. They elected new officers, discussed 4-H week, appointed Judy Jepson as a committee chairman for the Halloween Party and discussed fund raisers.

The new officers are: president - Tricia Coe, vice president - Judy Jepson, secretary - Heidi Nelson, and reporter - Kathleen Brazell.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, Oct. 15, at the 4-H annex at the Fairgrounds at 7 p.m.

Accounting class offers college credit

Basic Accounting class is offered each Thursday evening this fall at Heppner High School. Eleven people are enrolled in the course which carries college credits. Mike Hauser of Blue Mt. Community College teaches the class as part of the school's community education program.

Lexington News

Marge Ball was hostess to the Lexington Garden Bugs regular meeting on Thursday afternoon at her home. It was reported the group had a good turn-out at the program on Blue Ribbons at the Fair, and how to win at the fair. Delta Huber and Lois Allyn were in charge, and this was held at the Lexington School house. Dean and Lois Hunt won Garden of the Month and were presented a gift certificate to be redeemed at the bulb sale. The contest is over for the fall and winter and will start again in April. The most improved yard of the year will be announced in the paper next week. The group brought decorated pumpkins and after a silent vote the winners were Kathy Tellechea the cutest and the most original Marge Ball. There was some discussion on the coming bulb sale, opening day Friday the 10th and Saturday the 11th, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Lexington IOOF Hall. The door prize was won by Delta Huber. Pie and coffee was

Everyone is to bring their favorite potato dish to the November meeting. Annetta Padberg presented a very interesting program and demonstration on making pommerdos. The club will be making them during the two days of the plant sale, and answer any questions about the project. Present were Lois Allyn, Annetta Padberg, Bertha Sager, Marie Steagall, Delta Huber, Eula Bloodsworth, Luella Taylor, Kathy Tellechea, Ruth Robinson, Dorothy Burcham, and a guest Phyllis Anderson and hostess.

The first of the winter series of card parties sponsored by Holly Rebekah Lodge was held Saturday night at the hall. There were five tables of players. Winning were Hi women, Alice McCabe, Low Kathy Tellechea, Hi mens John Tellechea, and Low Cecil Jones. Traveling by Sue Vinson and Sara Adkins. Refreshments were served by the committee Dorothy Burcham and Annetta Padberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buchanan are at home from Portland where he spent several days in the hospital.

The GWA group met at the dining room of the Bunchgrass Saloon on Friday for a no-host luncheon. Plans were discussed for the Columbia Basin Electric dinner and committees appointed. This is a busy time for the Grange with several activities being planned. A group of State Grange officers will be present on Sunday, Oct. 19 for an officers training meeting. This conference will embrace Umatilla, Morrow, Gilliam and Wheeler counties. All officers of both subordinate and Pomona are urged to attend these sessions. Monday, Oct. 20 is the regular meeting and the program will be talk on the Port of Morrow by Louis Carlson. On Saturday, Oct. 25 Wheatland Pomona will meet at Mikkalo Grange at 10 a.m. and that evening the Blue Mountain Fiddler's concert will be at the Lexington Grange Hall, preceded by a spaghetti dinner. There has been some work done at the hall such as spreading gravel, cutting weeds, and laying carpet on the steps in the basement. The new name for the ladies group is now Grange Activity Women.

Leita Messenger is recovering from minor surgery at her home.

Gerry, Franklin and Jay Messenger of Portland spent the weekend off camping and hunting with Bob Smith, Ray Miller and Trent Hughes, son of Randy and Joyce Hughes, while Gerry's wife Sue visited with Betty Marquardt and Truman and Leita Messenger.

Is this all it takes to outweigh 1,300 Oregon jobs?

Teledyne Wah Chang Albany is more than zirconium, niobium and hafnium; it's people, too. When you sit in judgment over 1,300 workers, shouldn't you back up your decision with plenty of hard evidence? We're talking about 1,300 families in a state that is already too familiar with hard times.

State health and environmental experts, independent researchers and worker safety advocates all agree: Teledyne Wah Chang Albany's waste materials pose no significant danger to people or the environment. They based their conclusions on a careful, impartial look at the facts. Ballot Measure 15 is unnecessary and uncalled for. Base your decision on the facts. Vote no on Ballot Measure 15.
