

Trick-or-Treat

Friday Oct. 31 the Heppner kindergarten classes dressed up in their costumes and sang songs to the residents at Pioneer Memorial Hospital. After they were done they trick-or-treated the residents.

Time to begin 4-H clubs

It's time to start thinking about 4-H clubs and getting started on a new year says Extension Agent Bill Broderick. Club members names are needed for a mailing list so leaders need to get names of their club members to the Extension Office.

"Having been a club leader, I know it's easy to get bogged down doing the same things all the time," Broderick continues. "If this is a problem, you might try planning a calendar for the whole year or for as long as your club runs, so that you can plan ahead. By doing this, you can plan learning sessions, farm activities, tours, and community service project. If you are going to have a junior leader, have them help plan the calendar. Another possibility is to have all members help plan the calendar at the first meeting. Quite often, the club members have other expectations of what they want to happen during the year," he says.

The Extension office needs to collect $2.50 from each member to cover project material costs for the coming year. Each member needs to pay $2.50 only once regardless of how many clubs they belong to.

Leaders who need help starting a club or bringing new ideas into an established club, may call the cont Extension Office, 676-9642. "We don't have all the answers, but will work with you to find solutions to problems," Broderick says.

More leaders are needed in almost all project areas. Those who would like to volunteer may call the Extension Office.
