Many contribute to athelete program

To the Editor:

It takes the effort of a lot of people to have a successful athletic program at Heppner High School. There are many individuals in this community who helped to make the past football season a winning year and I would like to take this opportunity to mention them.

Ted Toll, Rick Johnston and Ron Bowman have been a reliable and dependable chain crew on the sidelines for several years. The American Legion Post No. 87 has done a very commendable job of presenting the colors at home games and the Heppner Community Band made up of high school students and community members were a valuable asset this fall.

The junior class should be recognized for their efforts at the concession stand and the HHS dance team for the halftime performances. The high school faculty and school district contribute to the overall success of the program.

The cooperation of the Morrow County Fairboard has been tremendous as has the groundswork of Ed Struthers.

Dorian Forrar needs to be included for his work in helping to get ready for games. And last, but not least, our loyal, supportive fans.

Without the help and encouragement of these individuals, the team, and the coaches there wouldn't be a football program.

Tuberous Sclerosis patients urged to contact assoc.

To the Editor:

The National Tuberous Sclerosis Association (NTSA) is a non-profit organization dedicated to providing educational information and support to victims of Tuberous Sclerosis and their families and furthering research.

Tuberous Sclerosis is a genetic disease characterized by tumors, seizures, and skin lesions. Mental retardation may or may not be present. Tuberous Sclerosis affects both male and female, and is found among people of all ethnic groups. It may be diagnosed a few months after birth, or may not become apparent until many years later. Once the disease appears in a family, the chance of additional members being affected is very high; therefore, early diagnosis, treatment and genetic counseling are extremely important.

A parent support group meets in the Metropolitan-Portland area one or two times a year in order to provide much needed emotional support and to exchange important information. In addition, any family that needs emotional support may call contact persons, Gloria Garbutt at 659-3077 in Milwaukie, or Marjorie Street at 252-8954 in Portland.

A vital research need is also served when the number of families with Tuberous Sclerosis is known, since the amount of funding dollars available to research into the cause--and possible cure--of Tuberous Sclerosis is closely linked to the incidence of the disease in the population.

All families with Tuberous Sclerosis are encouraged to contact the National Tuberous Sclerosis Association, P.O. Box 612, Winfield, Illinois 60190; or call free 1-800-CAL-NTSA.

Most sincerely yours,

Chamber Chatter

by Claudia Hughes
Chamber Manager

Give yourselves a pat on the back. Great things are happening in Heppner. Two hundred fifty people attended the Town 'n Country Banquet to climax a successful day. Only two out of 250 lost their smiles after a record wait in line for prime rib. That's terrific.

The hotel project is "go" after hours of work by many community members. Heppner now has a tourism theme: "Oregon's Gateway to the Blue Mountains", as well as many exciting slogans to promote our town. Heppner really does have something for every season-St. Patrick's Day, fishing, swimming, camping, golf, fair and rodeo, hunting, snowmobiling and all around friendliness.

What do we need now? We need to break our consistent record of voting "no" on tax bases and levies. If we want to attract tourists, to help our economy, spend a little extra to develop a park at the dam. How about consistantly voting "Yes" instead of "No." It's worth a try. Make Heppner the positive force.

December 2, Chamber meets at Elks for monthly business meeting. Thought for the week: "We are continually faced by great opportunities brilliantly disguised as insoluble problems."
