New 4-H club to begin

The Extension Service is beginning a 4-H club for young people interested in snowmobiling. A club leader is needed.

"Snowmobiles can be fun and exciting but they must be operated safely," says 4-H agent Bill Broderick.

"Sometimes the safety can mean keeping control of the machine, and other times, it means safety in numbers. It is always good to snowmobile with others in case of an accident or equipment failure," the 4-H agent emphasizes.

All people including youth who do not have a valid driver's license must have an operator's permit to drive a snowmobile. These permits may be obtained from Gene Orwick at Lexington Lumber Yard.

If you would like to be a member of this club, call the Extension Office, 676-9642 and leave your name and phone number.

Hats off to our community for the attendance at last Wednesday's Town Hall Meeting. I think it made everyone aware of the need to support our community. Heppner has some fine leadership and can be proud of those who stood up and voiced a positive attitude. Think of the end result if groups meeting over coffee would concentrate on positive ideas rather than dwelling on the negative. There's a real source of power among us if pointed in the right direction.

Tourism Committee is moving right along with their Heppner brochure. Recently members met with a group composed of 12 towns in this area to see if there was interest in joining together to develop a tourism route possibly following the Oregon Trail. The group will meet again the end of the month. Heppner Tourism Committee will meet Friday, Jan. 16, at Charlie's. Your input is always welcome.

Chamber Business Meeting next Tuesday, January 20 to work on committees, membership and final goals for 1987.

Dorothy Jackson, Delpha Jones, Leila Palmer, Luella Taylor, Joyce Buchanan, Eula Bloodsworth, and Dorothy Burcham. Door prize was won by Delpha Jones.

Joyce Buchanan has returned from the holidays spent in Portland.

Dot and Lewis Halvorsen and Cecil and Delpha Jones were visitors on Tuesday to Spray Grange where they obligated three new members and installed their officers. Lovely refreshments were served following the regular meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hudson from LaGrande are visiting at the Cecil Jones home.

Jean Nelson is at home again after visiting her daughter Kristin and friends and relatives in the Salem area.

William Irvin, The Dalles, spent the weekend with friends and relatives in Heppner and Lexington.

Sharon Barrier, The Dalles, has been visiting at the Anita Boyer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Shuler are visiting at the Boyer home while their furniture is being moved from Ft. Collins, Colorado to Bend.
