Read their way to free meal

Early in December, Heppner Elementary School and Tom and Helen Riehl of the R&W Drive In in Heppner started a reading incentive program. Students were challenged to increase both the quantity and quality of their recreational reading. Teachers have set up criteria for each age and reading level and monitor the reading by requiring some form of report on each book read. The Riehls give gift certificates good for a meal at the drive-in.

The following students have achieved awards:

Grade four - Jon Hanna, Joey Hoffman, and Wayne Martin

Grade five - Genelle Adelman, Robbie Briggs, and Steve Warnock.

Grade six - Jeremy Clark, Mark Conklin, Steve Hoffman, Mike Jones, Kevin Kilkenny, Jeremy Maddern, Shane Munkers, Peter Pearson, Ryan Pence, Kristina Sallee, Donita Sharp, and Phonetip Thongdy.

These students have won a total of 26 certificates up to the end of the first semester. Those winning more than one were: Peter Pearson, Jeremy Maddern, Ryan Pence, Robbie Briggs, and Joey Hoffman.

Heppner High School students are making a board with winners' names that will be on display at the drive-in.

Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes

A turtle only moves ahead by sticking out his neck. Those in our community who are at a standstill where the hotel project is concerned might think about this. Many citizens have volunteered hours and hours of time and effort working on this project so that Heppner might have another historical building to be proud of and to show off to visitors.

This is one chance in a lifetime to get our hotel renovated and for what better purpose than to house our senior citizens. People come from far and wide to visit Heppner, especially during our St. Patrick's Day celebration. How wonderful it would be to have the St. Patrick's Hotel once again a proud symbol of the history of our community.

By moving ahead with this renovation, we will work toward a far more attractive Main Street, as well as encouraging retired people to remain in our community. They are, after all, our heritage. Let's move ahead in this 100th year and make the hotel renovation a reality. Join Chamber members in support and pride.

The meeting is sponsored by MCGG, Pettyjohn Oil and Dobyns Pest Control. Lunch will be provided.

The pageant will be May 22-24 at the Portland Hilton. The fair and rodeo princess is collecting sponsors to qualify her for the final competition.

Charles and Arlene Flanagan, Irigon. She was selected for her scholastic ability and her involvement in many school-related and community activities.

The Heppner tourism committee met last week and looked over a proof of its upcoming brochure. Some changes were made and the brochure should be ready for distribution before the St. Patrick's Day celebration.

Junior bowlers begin fund raisers

The Heppner Junior Bowlers have once again started their fund raising events to pay their way to the State Bowling Tournament. Last year 26 Junior Bowlers went to the State Tournament. They returned with first and second place State Championships in "G" Division, and 20 other state awards.

This year 45 Junior Bowlers will need to earn twice the money. The Junior Bowlers have already completed a pop can drive. They have planned a bake sale and a Bowl-a-Thon. The projects will help all the kids have the opportunity to travel to the State Tournament.

Engagement Announcements Biddle—Lott

Marion and Sharon Biddle of Heppner, announce the engagement of their daughter Shelly Ann Biddle to Michael R. Lott, also of Heppner. Biddle is a graduate of Heppner High School and is presently attending Blue Mountain Community College.

The couple plan to be married February 28 at the United Methodist Church in Heppner.

IFYE talks to elementary students

Renae Eakin Children at the county's elementary schools were introduced to a little bit of Denmark last week in the person of International Four-H Youth Exchange student Renae Eaken of LaGrande.

Eaken stayed with five different families during a six-month visit to Denmark. She is currently traveling throughout Oregon talking about what she saw and experienced in the speak of a country surrounded by Sweden, Norway and Germany.

She shared remembrances of festivals and travel as well as school and coping with an increase in shoe size, from 8 to 39 and clothing size from 14 to 42.

Eaken likes working with children and will study to become a teacher.

While in Heppner, she stayed with Frank and Chloe Pearson and their family.

JV Fillies squeak past Huskies

By Ashley Conklin

It wasn't pretty but it was a win just the same and Heppner's junior varsity girls basketball team will take it just the same. Trailing 15-14 entering the fourth period last Saturday night against the Sherman County Huskies, the Fillies found their offense in the final period to pull away for a 33-23 win.

Jennifer Curran, who led all scorers with 14 points, hit four field goals and four of four free throws in the fourth quarter to lead Heppner to the win.

The Fillies led 4-2 after one period but fell behind 10-8 at intermission and 15-14 following three quarters of play.

Heppner, for a change, got a solid effort at the charity stripe where they hit 7 of 10 free shots for 70 percent. The Huskies were a meager 3 of 11 for 27 percent.

Libby Britt added 11 points for the Fillies while Melinda Miller led Sherman County with 7 points.
