Lenten service slated at Valby

The fifth in a series of Lenten services will begin at 8 p.m. April 1 at Valby Lutheran Church. The worship service, titled "Christ at Calvary" is part of a Trivia or Truth series. Everyone is invited to attend.

Eating Slim classes begin April 7

Eating Slim weight control classes will begin Tuesday, April 7 in Heppner. Classes taught by Registered Dietician Edith Thompson consist of sixteen 1 1/2 hour weekly sessions. In order to be eligible, a person must be at least 18 years old and at least 15 lbs. overweight. Classes are limited to 15 people. Interested individuals must meet for a complimentary introductory meeting at the volunteer firefighter's new meeting rooms on W. Willow St., 5:30 p.m. Tues., April 7. For further information contact Edith Thompson R.D. St. Anthony Hospital 276-5121 ext. 285.

Beadery class registration extended

Blue Mountain Community College's Beadery Class will be held in the Heppner Grade School cafeteria from 1 to 3 p.m. on Wednesdays beginning April 1. Due to the delay in finding a place to hold the class, registration will be extended for an additional week. There are still some places left in the class, so take advantage of this opportunity to learn a fascinating new craft, said B.M.C.C. Co-ordinator Marsha Sweek.

Mission team slates program

A Mission Resource Team will show slides of a recent visit to the Philippines at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 4 at Hope Lutheran Church in Heppner. A 6:30 p.m. potluck dinner will precede the program. The two-member team, Jason L. Kempanju and Jim Maxey, are students at the Lutheran Bible Institute of Seattle. Kempanju is a pastor working with the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Tanzania and Maxey will graduate from LBI this spring with a degree in missions and communications. They will conduct the Sunday morning worship services at Valby (9 a.m.) and Hope (11 a.m.) Lutheran Churches.

Calf roping rule review slated

Anyone interested in suggesting changes to the rules for the Morrow County Amateur Calf-Roping saddle may voice these suggestions at a 7 p.m. April 13 meeting at the Morrow County Fairgrounds dorm building. Rodeo committee members will be present to hear suggestions.

Elementary science fair slated

A public open house for the Heppner Elementary School science fair will be from 7-9 p.m. Wednesday, April 8 at the school's multi-purpose room. Students from grades K-8 will have projects on display. The Heppner High School physics class will judge seventh and eighth graders' exhibits based on an oral presentation by each student. Results of the judging will be announced at the open house.

Fair & Rodeo Court goes to the races

The Morrow County Fair and Rodeo Court sponsored the ninth race at Portland Meadows Sunday, March 29. The court toured the back of the track and saw how the horses are cared for and exercised. They also toured the track steward's office and the photograph department.

The fair and rodeo court was on hand to watch all the races. They went to the paddock to look at the horses before they ran. At the time of the ninth race they were escorted to the front of the grandstands to sponsor their race and present the blanket to the winning horses owner.

This is the second year that the court has sponsored a Morrow County Derby, said a rodeo spokesperson. "Hopefully this will become a tradition, because the trip and the fun is worthwhile. Accompanying the court were Court direc-

Hays gets State farmer award

Dorothy Hays, Heppner's Chapter President, received her State Farmer Award at the 59th annual state FFA convention in LaGrande, March 20-23. Hays, who has worked hard on her sheep project for the last four years, greatly deserves this high honor, the highest the state bestows on its FFA members.

Theresa Lindsay, Heppner's Chapter Reporter, took the state COOP Quiz and went through an interview that placed her in the top eight in the state. She wins a trip to Moscow, Idaho, in June for the Regional Leadership Workshop for Cooperative Education.

Barney Lindsay, Cory Rill, Brian Kolemman, Nancy Bailey and Dean Munkers were other Heppner FFA members that attended. Cory Rill and Theresa Lindsay were official delegates, the others served at committee members.

Community Pride month in Lexington

The Lexington Garden Bugs and the Lexington City Council have declared the month of April "community pride month."

Residents are asked to clean and remove debris, weeds and unwanted items from their yards and city right of ways. The fire department will burn large piles of lumber and wood and vacant lots on request.

Bagged trash will be picked up Saturday, April 25 and hauled to the dump for those who are unable to haul their own.

Those willing to volunteer may call Dorothy Burcham, Phyllis Anderson, Luella Taylor, Marge Ball or Kathy Tellechea for further details.
