Carol Ann Alley, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Oregon, paid her official visit to Holly No. 139 on Thursday evening. She was accompanied by Ellie Cox, from Integrity Lodge who is the color bearer of the Assembly.

The evening started with a salad supper served by the lodge members. The tables were decorated with spring favors and ceramic ducks. Large plastic ducks filled with flowers were set about the room and balloons floating above the table.

The meeting began at 8 p.m. with the N.G. Annetta Padberg presiding. Introduced at this time were the guests, Assembly President and color bearer, Leila Palmer, D.D.P. of Dist. No. 20 and Delpha Jones State Community Service Chairman. A tribute to the American flag was given and a short history of the lodge to the President and guest were presented by the committee. An instructive talk was heard, with a few on the various projects. She urged all the lodges to try and send delegates to the State session. The room was decorated with posters of her program, balloons, ducks and spring flowers. In closing a memorial was given by Holly at which time the group sang "Amazing Grace." During the meeting the group enjoyed singing of "Red Wing" accompanied by President Carol Ann who had written Rebekah words.

Friday several of the Holly members attended the district meeting hosted by San Souci, Frances Peck, as Page, Annetta

Padberg L.S. Chaplain, Dorothy Jackson as treasurer, Delpha Jones as Warden, Virginia Peck Past Chairman, Leila Palmer D.D.P. Dist No 20 and P.S.P.C. and Geri Martin as L.S.C.

Hilda Yocom was called to Pendleton by the illness of a granddaughter Nicole Jones who was a patient in St. Anthony hospital.

Dorothy Burcham spent the Easter weekend with her son and wife Mr. and Mrs. Mike Burcham in Pendleton.

Lexington Grange met on Monday evening for a regular meeting starting with a potluck dinner. The program was a slide presentation by Berl Stillman on wildflowers. He also gave the group the botanical name and something about the plant. A couple of articles were read by Lecturer Barbara Cutsforth. As a part of the Lecturers program the following members were appointed for substitute officers and conducted the meeting: Master Carl Martin; Overseer Ned Clark; Secretary Barbara Cutsforth; Treasurer Ken Smouse; Lecturer Jean Nelson; gatekeeper Cecil Jones; Assistant Steward Bob Stevens; L.A.S. Judy Stevens. Introduced and welcomed were Joe Du Pais, Umatilla County Pomona Master and wife Mary and Delpha Jones Wheatland Pomona Dist. Deputy. This was Jones official visit to her Grange. Each guest was given time for a few words and reminder to the Granges that State session will be in Hermiston in June. Pomona is scheduled for Clarno Saturday, April 25 at 10 a.m.

Breeding to write Heppner News

Joyce Breeding

Joyce Breeding, 676-5407, will be collecting and writing the weekly Heppner news column for the Gazette-Times.

Breeding was raised in Heppner and moved to Eigin for several years where she wrote a similar column for the Elgin Recorder. She returned to Heppner 1 1/2 years ago.

Weddings

Lott — Biddle

Shelly Biddle and Michael R. Lott both of Heppner were married February 28 at a 4 p.m. ceremony at the Heppner United Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Biddle of Heppner. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Randy Lott of Heppner. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Don Boyce.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of poly sheer ganza. The bodice was of sheer lace with silhouette neckline, long fitted sleeves and a-line full skirt features, a back basque design with layered ruffled cathedral train. Her pearl and crystal covered coplex held a double fru fru fluff and two tier illusion veil.

She carried a cascading bouquet of roses, carnations and babys breath. Tammy Hayes of Portland was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sonja McCabe, sister of the bride, of Heppner; Missy Turner of Portland and Dyanne McCarty of Echo. Flower girl was Marissa McCabe, of Heppner, niece of the bride. Ring bearer was Michael McCabe of Heppner, nephew of the bride.

Jeff Edmundson, of Pendleton was best man. The groomsmen were Ron Ward of LaGrande, Mike Rasmussen of Baker and Don Lott, of Baker, brother of the groom.

Following the reception, the couple then left for a wedding trip to the Oregon Coast.

The couple are residing in Pendleton.

Getting ready for "Cracked Ice"

Students at Heppner High School work on displays for a language arts department presentation May 1. Beginning at 7:30 p.m. students will perform "Cracked Ice," a play about two men stationed at an outpost in Alaska and what happens when two women, one an Eskimo, enter their lives. Following the play, some students will read their own works.

Admission is free. The National Honor Society will serve pie and coffee.

Heppner spellers to compete

Heppner elementary students have competed for a chance to go to the University of Oregon Writing Festival, May 2.

Homeroom teachers nominated the top four writers in each grade. These students then met to write for one hour on an assigned topic. Grades three-six wrote on "A Pet I Would Like To Have" and junior high students wrote on "A Day I Would Like To Have."

Joseph Healy (grade 5) and alternate Chad Skroch (grade 4) won the elementary contest. Jerri Wheeler (grade 7) and alternate Sarah Clark (grade 7) are junior high winners.

Linda Shaw, Academically Talented Coordinator organized the contest. Judges were Pat Edmundson, Karen Dubuque, Mary Haguewood, Phyllis Payne and Anne Metz.

The University of Oregon continues to host the Oregon Writing Festival the first Saturday in May. Students from elementary schools, junior high schools and high school have a chance to share a finished piece of writing, to hear others read their compositions, and to attend workshops on areas of personal interest about writing.
