In the interest of helping local businesses and the local economy, the Heppner Gazette-Times in cooperation with the Heppner Economic Development Corporation, will periodically publish bid announcements from Marketplace Connections.

Following is a description of what Marketplace Connections is, and what goods and services are available for bidding.

Marketplace Connections is an economic development program operating in Umatilla, Morrow, Grant, Gilliam and Wheeler Counties. Its goal is to create jobs and retain dollars in the local economy. It does this by helping businesses find local suppliers for goods and services currently being purchased outside the state.

Following is a brief description of clients seeking bids on:

1. fine mist sprayers for 2 oz. bottles of insect repellent.
2. production of spun stainless steel products.
3. three Warren 3A turret lathes.
4. someone with sewing capabilities.
5. aluminum awning kits, skirting and accessory items for mobile home use.
6. electric motors.
7. surge suppressor.
8. military hardware boxes.

If you are interested in any of these items, or want more detailed information, please contact HEDC members Cliff Green at Coast to Coast, or Bob Kahl at Van Marter and Kahl Insurance in Heppner.
