Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes

Wanted: photographs. Three times during the past six months there has been occasion to display what we're all about to hundreds of people. The brochures were available but it takes a bit more to attract people from all over the Pacific Northwest to our area. What type of pictures are needed? Just about any kind depicting our "gateway to the Blue Mountains", our Irish and Swedish heritage, agriculture, fishing, camping, hunting. What beckons a person to visit an area? What reaches out and grabs you about our area-an old farmstead, the historical courthouse, a small child fishing in a creek, St. Patrick's Day festivities, the fair and rodeo, a friendly "hello"? Take a hint from some of the slogans submitted: Heppner-for all seasons; a little bit of country; small town friendliness; we're all of these and more. Please share your photographs by bringing them by the Chamber office with your name and address plus identification of picture. Photographer will be identified if the pictures are used in the display. Get into the act by helping to promote Heppner. Your help will be appreciated.

No Chamber June 30 as it's the fifth Tuesday.

You're with some friends, someone pulls out some matches, ask them to stop, before fire catches! You can burn something down, and hurt someone, too. So don't play with matches, it's better for you.
