Letters to the Editor

An open letter from the Chamber

July 14, 1987
Harry Kennison
General Manager
Kinzua Corporation
Heppner, OR 97836

Mr. Kennison:
The Heppner Chamber of Commerce would like to take this opportunity to congratulate you and your staff on the new stud mill planer complex being installed at your mill here in Heppner. We understand that this will create 40 more jobs for the community. I'm sure the entire community can appreciate the financial impact that such a large addition to the work force creates in a small town the size of Heppner.

Kinzua mill over the past many years. The business community has been extremely pleased with the outcome of your diversified marketing strategy and also the way that you have sustained the natural resources of the area with your forest management program.

Again, let us congratulate you on this huge boost of the economy of our small lumber-farming community.

Sincerely,
E. George Koffler
President
Heppner Chamber of Commerce

Chief Rathbun's Tips

If you're walking along, and home seems so far, don't fall for the line, "come get into my car," don't pay attention, don't even go near of strangers in cars, you have something to fear.

Now on display

Now on display at the Morrow County Museum in Heppner, this petrified toad was found in a flower bed on Baltimore St. earlier this week. Jerry Davis said she suspected he had been buried for a long time but that recent rains and watering helped bring the little fellow closer to the surface. She found him while pulling weeds.
