Large crowd attends 74th Oregon Cattlemen's Convention

One of the largest crowds in the last five years attended the 74th convention of the Oregon Cattlemen's Association in Portland November 19-21. More than 400 were in attendance. New President of the state association is Bill Wolfe, Wallowa; First Vice President is Wasco County rancher Don Gomes, Antelope; and Treasurer is Washington County cattleman Robert Jones, Hillsboro.

Newly elected District Vice Presidents are Mike Hanley, Jordan Valley; Duke Lathrop, Wallowa; and Van Decker, Burns. District Vice Presidents continuing in their second year of a two-year term are Robert Forth, Pendleton; J.B. Cox, Prineville; Bob Ferns, Medford; and Steve Coleman, Molalla.

Meeting with the Cattlemen were the Oregon CattleWomen's Association. Their program consisted primarily of developing new marketing strategies for merchandising and promoting beef products. Newly elected President is Bonnie Thornburgh, Lakeview; First Vice President is Jeanette Knott, Cove; Secretary is Louise Grothe, Lakeview; Treasurer, Nancy Forth, Pendleton; Second Vice Presidents are Fran Davis, Diamond; Judy Wortman, Enterprise; Frances Evans, Junction City; Beck Hoeft, Pendleton; and Terry Gomes, Antelope.

Park benches being redone

Bill Sowell is to be commended for his community-minded spirit. He is in the process of reconditioning the park benches from the city park. The city crew is hauling the benches to Bill's house and he is repairing them. Then the city crew will treat the benches with a sealer. It will be nice this spring to see the reconditioned benches in our city park.

Williams is new District Ranger

Ben Siminoe, Heppner District Ranger since 1977, has been promoted to Range Staff Officer on the Humboldt National Forest in Elko, Nevada.

Siminoe headed up the Spruce Budworm Spray Project Team on the Wenatchee National Forest this past spring. He served as Acting Resource Staff Officer on the Umatilla during 1986. Siminoe received a sustained superior performance award in 1982 as District Ranger.

Roger Williams accepted the reassignment as Heppner District Ranger effective November 22.

Williams holds a Master of Business Administration and a Bachelor of Science Degree in Forest Management from Oregon State University. Williams was District Ranger on the Skykomish Ranger District with experience as a Timber Management Assistant and Resource Assistant before being promoted to the Ranger position.

Williams and his wife Carol have an eight-year-old son, Michael, and a five-year-old daughter, Jenny. "We are looking forward to living and working at Heppner and the many new opportunities of 'east-side' life again," says Williams.
