

Monday night wind damage in local area

Willow Creek was hit hard by a storm that hit the area on Monday night.

The Oregon State Police-State Highway Division wintertime Road Condition Report telephone hotline is now operating. The Portland hotline number 238-8400, tells travelers about winter road conditions statewide. Callers may select road condition reports for any of eight state regions when using a Touchtone phone. Callers using dial phones must listen to the message play in regional order. Hotline calls are toll-free in the Portland area. Outside of Portland, callers pay at regular long distance rates, which usually totals less than 75 cents per call, according to division officials.

The hotline operates around the clock and has the most current travel conditions on state highways to help drivers plan ahead for winter trips.

Tips for the coming Christmas season

This year there will be many beautiful decorations, creative exhibits, entertainment, and special events included in "Holidays at the Capitol." Hundreds of volunteer hours have gone into making this a very special season for visitors.

Opening ceremonies will be December 7, at 5:15 p.m. Santa Claus and Frosty the Snowman will be among the guests to start the "Winter Wonderland" festivities. The main tree in the rotunda area will be decorated with snowflakes, icicles, and hundreds of twinkling lights.

The award-winning model village and train, built by the Oregon State Correctional Institution inmates will again be in its place beneath the tree. The village includes miniature replicas of Salem's historical buildings, including such landmarks as Bush House, the Gilbert House, and Deepwood. Hundreds of poinsettias, wrapped in silver foil, will be spread throughout the Capital building.

The first floor Galleria exhibit will be "The Bead Goes On" from the University of Oregon Visual Arts Resources. This exhibit features expressions in contemporary beadwork.

The Governor's office will feature a decor of candy and gingerbread villages prepared by bakeries throughout the state. The second floor will show case Oregon regional holiday scenes, designed an dput in place by volunteers from Baker, Medford, Coos Bay, and Eugene. Visitors are encouraged to bring a sack lunch and enjoy the musical performances during the noon hour, weekdays, December 7 through 21.
