Delpha Jones and Millie Rauch present awards to Alecia Tarnasky, Peter Pearson and Shawn Cutsforth.

By Delpha Jones
The Morrow County Historical Society was happy to present checks and certificates to three junior high students from Heppner who took part in the sponsored 100 year railroad project. The railroads in Morrow County were 100 years old this year and the group at the suggestion of Dominic Monahan from New York, sponsored a contest for junior high students. These were judged and the three highest received money awards and the school gave certificates.

Washington for the government and he sent $50 for the first prize with the Society matching the amount. Those receiving awards were: First place Alecia Tarnasky, second place Peter Pearson and third place Shawn Cutsforth. A committee of Pat Wright and Millie Rauch contacted the schools and got the project underway. Presenting the awards were Millie Rauch and Delpha Jones President of the Morrow County Historical Society. The Society greatly appreciated the effort by the teachers and students in this project and the school for including the ladies in the award night.

Summer reading program to begin

Dinosaurs are the theme for the 'Be a Dino-Mite Reader' summer reading program, being sponsored jointly for the first time by the Heppner Elementary School and the Heppner Public Library.

The kick-off date is June 13 and continues to August 15 at the Public Library and August 22 at the school library. The school's hours are Mondays 10 a.m. to 12 noon and Wednesdays 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. The Public Library will maintain their current hours.

Books checked out at either library are counted in one total. Participants can earn an ice cream treat.

This new year is a competition for whoever reads the most books as of August 15. For this, there will be two age groups. Preschoolers through first graders can count books they read or have read to them. The winner from this age group receives an imagination book, 'Sometimes I Pretend'. The winner in the older age group, second graders and up, receives a facts/fun book, 'T.R. (Tyrannosaurus Rex) and Friends'.

Both libraries are sponsoring Oregon's Governor Goldschmidt's Reading Program. Any student reading ten books receives a certificate signed by the governor. Forms for this may be picked up at the libraries.
