UMW give generously to Heppner Day Care

Cara Costa (right) member of the Heppner United Methodist Women, presents Heppner Day

Heppner United Methodist Women at their regular fall meeting, voted to give financial assistance to the Heppner Day Care in the amount of $100 a month for the next six months.

"Historically, the women's organization of the United Methodist Church has been an advocate for women, children and families since the early missionary societies," said a United Methodist spokeswoman. "At the present time, the General Board of Missions and the Women's division of the United Methodist Church supports numerous child care centers across the county. Each local unite pledges support to the na-

Care, Inc. board member Molly Rhea (center) and director April Hilton-Sykes, a check for $100.

This gift from the United Methodist Women is so generous," said Heppner Day Care director, April Hilton-Sykes. "The UMW have definitely shown that they are part of the solution. Their gift will go a long way towards enriching the lives of a lot of kids."

"In this present generation, adequate day care for children is important and necessary. We can't wish away the need—we can be a positive help. We can be part of the solution to the need for child care in the community. We can show in a tangible way that we are concerned about everyday needs of many of our church families", she concluded.

"The Goodwill Decorator" will be in Heppner Oct. 6

TV celebrity from "AM Northwest", shown on Portland's ABC Channel #2, Debbie Clunas, will be in Heppner, October 6. Mrs. Clunas is known as "The Goodwill Decorator" and will be sharing her ideas and knowledge with those interested. Goodwill Industries sponsors her in showing how to recycle old junk into useful items for home or to wear. Some of her low budget decorating ideas are how to turn dresser drawers into picture frames or shadow boxes, and how to turn an outgrown, no longer used hobby horse into a fashionable carousel horse.

Mrs. Clunas will be at the Catholic Parish Hall from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and again at 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. in Heppner. She welcomes items brought for a question and answer workshop, and will be also demonstrating her skills.

To register, call the Morrow County Extension Service in Heppner, 676-9642. There will be no charge for this workshop/demonstration. The public is welcome.

Historical Society to meet Oct. 2

Don't forget the Morrow County Historical Meeting scheduled for Sunday, October 2 at the Lexington Grange Hall with Mr. Bennett of Hermiston, long time employee of the Railroad as speaker. This has been an interesting year railroad-wise in Morrow County as its railroads have been here 100 years, and there were essays by the county school children and recognition of the railroads bit in developing this county. There will be a turkey potluck dinner at 1 p.m. with special music, door prizes, speaker, short business meeting and an afternoon of getting reacquainted. The public is cordially invited to join at this time. Dues will be due and Chronicals and calendars available at this time.

Day care employees attend child care class

Cheryl Ripple and Kathy Telichea recently attended a class on School Age Child Care held at the Linn-Benton Community College in Eugene. Each of the ladies earned 6 hours of certified training. These ladies are employed at the Heppner Day Care Center.

Parents Club sponsors program

The Heppner Parents Club is sponsoring an informative program on the Safety Net and how it affects our schools. The program will be held at the Heppner Elementary School, Wednesday, October 5 beginning at 7 p.m. Chuch Star, Assistant School Superintendent, will be the guest speaker.

This program is open to the public and everyone is welcome. A question and answer period will follow.

"Intro to Sheep" clinic in Hermiston

Oregon Sheep Growers Association is sponsoring a day-long seminar, or clinic, for beginning sheep producers in cooperation with the Extension Service and Pendleton Grain Growers, according to Nancy Dake, Summerville, who is Vice President of the Northwest Oregon region, and in charge of the clinic. The event will be held on Saturday, October 8, at the Vo-Ag Department, Hermiston High School, 600 South 1st Street, Hermiston. Cost of the clinic is $25 for adults, $7 for students, and includes all materials, and a lamb barbecue lunch. To register for the clinic, call Morrow County Extension office, 676-9642.
