The Adventures of Grazelda & Clem...

(After Hours)

Grazelda Harked: "Hey, Clem, if you're going to sit there and pout, I'll go ahead and make your favorite sauer-kraut and peach pie. But here it is eight o'clock and I'm plumb out of chocolate milk!"

Clem Exclaimed: "Hey Grazelda, you dang well know that I can't eat my favorite sauer-kraut and peach pie without no chocolate milk!"

Grazelda Hissed: "Well then, Clem, you better get your tail up and buzz right down to Miller's Mini-Mart & Chevron, because they open at six in the morning and they don't close till eleven at night!"

Growers to register for Agrinomics

Umatilla Electric's "Agrinomics" program reaches a threshold. We have set the stage for grower participation says Taaffe, the programs administrator.

Now the future of the program is up to the growers in Morrow and Umatilla Counties, they have to decide if this is what they want out of it.

The "Agrinomics" program has paved the way for diversification of crops by centralizing the packaging and marketing aspects of new crop development. Commitments from the State and the Port of Umatilla to provide the necessary facilities await proof that we have broad based grower support.

Now is the time for growers to register their interest. Sign ups will be available at the Winter Farm Fair at the Umatilla County Fairgrounds, OSU Hermiston Experiment Station, Umatilla Electric Cooperative Association and Columbia Basin Electric Cooperative in Heppner. For more information call Mike Taaffe at 567-6414 or 1-800-452-2273.
