Ryan Duncan, 18, formerly of Heppner and now living in Leavenworth, Wa. displays a very nice set of elk horns retrieved from the bull he killed while hunting in the Blewett Pass area. The 6x6 rack measured 39 inches across and 40 inches from the middle of the base to the highest point. Ryan is a former Heppner student, graduating from Leavenworth and is now attending Wenatchee Valley College. His parents are Bob and Sue Duncan.

Heppner students compete in Knowledge Master Open

Heppner Junior High school students participated December 7 in the Knowledge Master Open, a national contest. The contest asks that students work quickly to read and respond to questions requiring both knowledge and the ability to apply that knowledge in new situations.

Because the contest comes to the school on a computer disk, students all over the nation may compete on the same day and be spared travel costs.

The contest has proven to be so popular with students that Linda Shaw, TAG Coordinator, and Al Beck, KMO team coach, decided to give a qualifying test to all 7th and 8th graders. The top 13 students made up the team. These students were: Tony Becket, Gretchen Berretta, Sherry Bingham, Jeremy Clark, Mark Conklin, Aleida Goodyear, Kevin Kilkenny, Jeanine Michael, Shane Munkers, Kevin Payne, Alecia Tarnasky, Jim Tellechea, and Laurel Webber-Gray.

Weddings

Branstetter — Day

On October 22, the Free Methodist Church in Pendleton, saw the uniting in marriage of Lorri Day and Bryan Branstetter at a double ring ceremony with the Reverend Bates officiating.

The bride was walked down the aisle by her mother and father, Troy and Molly Day of Heppner.

The bride wore a gown of white Philippine lace over baby blue with Leg-O-Mutton sleeves, trimmed with pearl buttons. The gown was made by her mother. She wore a headpiece of white and blue silk flowers with floating pearls over her up-swept hairstyle. She wore a pearl pendant and earrings loaned to her by Norma Edger of Heppner who also made the tatted ring pillow.

The maid of honor was Donna Krueger who wore a medium blue gown. The bride and maid of honor both carried blue and white bouquets with ribbon streamers.

Parents of the groom are Gilbert and Mary Branstetter of Pendleton. The groom's best man was Rick Morrelli of Portland. The ushers and candlelighters were Greg Royal of Pendleton, Merle Gehrke of Stanfield and Curtis Day, brother of the bride of Heppner. All had matching tuxes of pearl gray with light blue cummerbund and tie.

Marla Reeves, sister of the groom, attended the guest book. Vocalist was Lisa Lowery accompanied on the piano by Rose Mary Schuening who was also the organist.

The reception followed at the church where a three-tiered cake, punch and coffee were served. The top tier was decorated with a bride and groom that was also on the top of the bride's parents wedding cakes.

The bride is an employee at Independent Living in Pendleton.

The groom is an employee on the Branstetter Ranch in Pendleton. The couple honeymooned along the coast of California visiting friends and relatives.
