

Wedding

Carver — Sheirbon

Janet Kim Carver and Douglas Eric Sheirbon were united in marriage November 12, 1988 at the First Christian Church in Hermiston. The ceremony was presided over by Marc Bullins and Denis Whittier.

The bride's parents are Richard and Beverly Lowry of Hermiston. The groom's parents are Leonard and Georgiana Sheirbon of Hood River.

Matron of honor for her sister was Carol Dorsey, Portland. Bridesmaids were Bev Mahoney, sister, Butte, Mt.; Diane Stauffer and Pattie Kennedy, both friends of the bride of Hermiston.

Best man was Jerry Alldredge, Boardman. Groomsmen were Bill Sheirbon, Lexington and Scott Sheirbon, Hood River, brothers of the groom and David Piper, Heppner.

Flower girls were Jessica and Jacee Carver, daughters of the bride. Ring bearer was Danny Wilmarth.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the church fellowship hall. Hostess was Vicqui Hook. Cutting the cake was Debbie Sheirbon and serving was Donna Davis. Coffee and punch servers were Lydia Harrison and Penny Gavette. Kristi French attended the guest book. Cheryl Wilmarth attended the gift table.

The bride wore a cream colored tea length dress made of lace over taffeta. Bridesmaids wore teal taffeta dresses. The groom and groomsmen wore silver tuxedos.

After a wedding trip to the coast, the couple is at home in Heppner.

Private Woodlands Assn to meet

The Morrow County Private Woodlands Association will hold their annual meeting on January 13, from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon at the Elks Lodge in Heppner. This meeting is being held in conjunction with Morrow County's Town and Country Days. In addition to a short business meeting a program is planned that will feature presentations of two new slide programs. One slide tape focuses on a summary of new research about the mountain Pine Beetle. Another describes how to use Designated Skid Trails for minimizing logging impacts to forest sites. Both will be presented by Paul Oester, Area Extension Forester. The slide programs were recently developed at Oregon State University.

Anyone interested in forestry is invited to attend

MCHS meets for regular meeting

By Delpha Jones

The board of Directors of the Morrow County Historical Society met at the home of Jim and Barbara Bloodsworth for their regular Christmas party and meeting on Monday evening. A delicious roast beef dinner was enjoyed after which a short business meeting was held. A report was heard from Jean Nelson on the Oregon Trail progress and the signs. The plaque for the Hitching Post at the courthouse has come and will soon be put in a cement base at the stone. It was voted to use some of the memorial money for the Historical signs. A report was heard on the Indian markings on the stone at the Irrigon school and a report is expected soon on the findings from the Umatilla Indian archeologist as to the date and the meaning of the writings. There will be a plaque set there as soon as the facts are verified. A plaque will be set at the Boardman park for the pump house (gazebo) given to the city of Boardman. This is from the Sam Boardman rest area near Boardman, believed to be the first rest area established in Oregon. There was some discussion of the Morrow County newspapers stored at the museum, and the need to be put on microfilm. The group voted to budget an amount hoped to be sufficient for the microfilming of these important papers. An election of officers was held with president Delpha Jones; vice president Harold Peck; secretary-treasurer Ruth McCabe.

The next meeting will be at the Darrell Vinson home on Buttercreek. A Christmas exchange was enjoyed with an exchange of gifts and visiting.

Citizen-Educator Award to be presented

A new award being given this year at the Town and Country banquet Friday evening is that of Citizen/Educator. The award is based on not only the person's capacity as an educator, but on their contribution to their community and county as well.

Educators involved in active community service often convey this enthusiasm to their students. "Our Future, Our County, Our Kids" begins at home and is nurtured in our schools.

It is hoped this recognition will be an ongoing Chamber award for Morrow County teachers who are visible in the community, thus encouraging community involvement in education.

In addition to Citizen/Educator, awards for Man and Woman of the Year will also be presented Friday evening. Happy hour begins at 6 p.m. and the dinner at 7 p.m.

Mick Scott to address Livestock Growers and CattleWomen

Mick Scott the new Executive Vice President of the Oregon Cattlemen's Association will be on hand to meet the producers he will be serving and address the future of OCA at the 1:30 p.m. meeting, January 13 at the Heppner Elks club. Mr. Scott has a very distinguished advertising background. His expertise should be very helpful as the beef industry continues to strive for a larger share of the market.

Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, Chamber Manager

And "while the rains fall softly on the fields" our community is in the midst of Town and Country Week. Committee chairmen run around with check-off lists and jumbled minds concerned with the myriad of details required to pull an event such as this off without too many hitches. "Nothing makes a person more productive than the last minute."

Kicking off the week was the St. Patrick's Committee meeting. Seven Irish families have ordered flags to add a festive note on Main Street. An intense planning session is scheduled for January 19 at 7 p.m. at the Extension Conference Room, as it will soon be time for a "wee bit o' Ireland" in Heppner.

Chamber's annual luncheon went off on schedule with music by Jeff Wallace, President Forrie Burkenbine and new board members Cliff Green, Bob Kahl, and Don Boyce were sworn in. Murray's Drug was selected as Business of the year and the "Hats Off" award went to Ken Turner for his continued dedication and perseverance on the Willow Creek Park Project. Ken stated that "without Bert Corbin, it would never have progressed this far." Volunteers are terrific.

Chamber members can now move on to participate in other Town and Country events. The great thing about Town and Country Week is the opportunity to learn more about other organizations and wrap up the event with social time, humorous speaker, awards, and a chance to relax with friends. What a way to kick off a new year.

We appreciate everybody that helps as it truly is a community event. Next week's Chamber program will deal with burglary prevention.
