

St. Pat's 'Wearin O the Green'

The Morrow County Fair and Rodeo court braved a cool day to ride in the St. Patrick's Day Parade.

The Bank of Eastern Oregon Clowns circulated throughout the crowd Saturday giving out candy and good will. Fran Barnett is hiding behind this mask.

Adams Bread Truck entrants in the Bed Race were ready to go. They placed second.

This Carter dog herded these geese throughout the whole parade without ever harming or exciting them.

The Morrow and Gilliam County Community Bands provided music for entertainment at the barbecue Sunday.

Jane Rawlins cut the ribbon for the Dedication of the St. Patrick's Hotel on Saturday. This event culminated the end of an all out effort to complete the senior center and senior housing in Heppner. People were allowed to tour some of the apartments by residents that live there. Bill Kuhn, who was instrumental in converting the hotel over, holds the ribbon for Jane.

The United Way entry in the Bed Race was an all women team. Although they came in last, they gave it a heck of a try.
