Flags again being offered

Names are again being taken by the St Patrick's flag committee for family flags will be flown each year in downtown Heppner. Last year 14 flags were flown on Main Street depicting the name of the Irish family and the county from which they came. Families interested in purchasing a flag, may contact Gwen Healy at 676-9929.

Next year, the flags will be more noticeable, as the committee has decided to add a long orange fringe to make them more noticeable.

Grieb participates in workshop

Geri Grieb, Morrow County resident, participated in a Marketing Extension Workshop held by Oregon State University (OSU) Extension Service in Newport, Oregon May 24-25.

The workshop was designed to prepare representatives from each county in Oregon to assume leadership roles in promoting increased client involvement with Extension Service programs.

"Growing up as a 4-H member, I've pretty much thought of Extension Service in terms of the 4-H Youth Program. Extension Service, an informal branch of the Oregon State University, found in every county in the state, has research based information and programs in: forestry, marine science, energy use and conservation; Community development; home economics; and Agriculture as well as 4-H Youth Development.

"I'd like more 4-H Volunteer leaders to be aware of the enormous amount of program resources and leader training available to them through OSU Extension Service," said Grieb.

"As 'payback' for the Marketing training, I plan to be working with Carol Bennett and Bill Broderick, Morrow County 4-H Agents on a

Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, Chamber Manager

Today is one of those "bits and pieces" days, so file these in your memory bank. For some, that's an organized calendar, for some, instant memorization, and for others a scrap of paper or lunch napkin. So here goes:

*As you read this, Thursday at 2:30 p.m. a group of Canadians will be visiting the Heppner Museum where they will be "blitzed" with history and reasons to come back to Morrow County to stay awhile.

*TREC recently traveled to Portland where they introduced Japanese visitors to Morrow County. Clint and Phil Carlson had their signs printed in Japanese and an interpreter on hand to make the visitors feel at ease. I'll bet they remember where Heppner is.

*Wanted Driver: the St. Patrick's Fair Paddy Wagon needs a driver for the lone and/or Boardman 4th of July parades. You're guaranteed a good time. Contact George Koffler to volunteer.

*Speaking of our St. Patrick's event, the next meeting is this Thursday, June 8, 7 p.m. Extension Conference room. It's not too early to get "all our leprechauns in a row".

*Friday's the day when many south Morrow jailbirds will be out and about; that is, until they're thrown in jail. Be prepared to help bail them out when your phone rings with a donation to the American Cancer Society. "Shamrock Sal" needs all the help she can get!

*Willow Creek Park District could use some enthusiastic persons willing to serve on the board and do paper work. This is a very important and worthwhile project for our area and will benefit all of us in a variety of ways. Too many hours of time and effort have been put into this to let it go by the wayside!

*Garden Club members were hard at it again to make Heppner Main Street a pleasant scene. The Heppner Sorooptimists will be doing their part on Thursday, June 29, when they clean up Main Street. All volunteers are welcome at 5 p.m. to join forces. Weeds will be pulled, sidewalks swept, litter picked up. Remember the hotel effort. Let's do it again!

*Barbecue tickets for the "Circle the Wagons" will be available next week from Chamber members. July 3 at 11 a.m., wagons will roll into Heppner. Plan on being on hand to welcome them and join them at the fairgrounds at 7 p.m. for an excellent steak barbecue.

*Next week's chamber program to include explanation of the school operating levy.
