Area teachers submit resignations

A school board meeting held at the District office at Lexington on June 19 included the following action:

Resignations were accepted from the following on extended responsibility-Sharon Leinweber, CJH drill team advisor; Ardella Sue Fry, RHS assistant volleyball coach; Terry Starr, RHS assistant football coach. Classified, Lydian Sanchez, aide at ACH; and Jim Gordanier bus driver in Irrigon. Certificated included, Sharon Morris second grade at Ione elementary; Terry Starr sixth grade at SBE; Randy Gundlach, art at RHS and CJH.

The board approved child care leave for Cindy Beatty, first grade at ACH, approved the TAG program; and revised the Chapter I Parent Involvement Policy.

Letters were received from the boards in Estacada and Gresham requesting support for school finance legislation.

Under superintendents report the board reviewed advertisements for bids and reviewed a copy of the recall petition being circulated against four board members.

A new contract was ratified and signed between the district and the classified employees. This contract runs from July 1, 1989 through June 30, 1992.

The board accepted the bid of Gerry Hobson, General Contracting, Inc. for asbestos abatement work and approved spending $19,700 from the current year's contingency fund to cover excess costs.

St. Patrick's Senior Center Bulletin Board

Last Saturday the center was full of the many friends and relatives of Iva Booker congratulating her on her 90th birthday. Iva, in a summer floral print with rosebud corsage, greeted her guests in our sitting room. Later everyone was served cake, coffee, tea and punch from an elegant tea table in the dining room. What a pleasant time of talking and well-wishing. Arrangements of garden flowers about the rooms came from her daughter Marlene Peterson's garden.

Iva, her usual perky self, invited us all to visit her in her apartment upstairs, "but not everyone at once." Iva is a good example of a saying we like: "Not growing old, but old and growing." We wish her many happy returns.

This week: Friday morning from nine to eleven, coffee and 'nibblin' stuff" in the sitting room. Everyone welcome.

Next week: Our regular noon luncheon on Wednesday. Menu to be announced. Christian Life Center and Latter Day Saints ladies will assist with serving. At 1:30 the regular Nutrition Site Committee meets in the office.

Friday from 9-11 a.m. coffee hours again in the sitting/rec. room.

Important meetings are coming on July 12: one at 10 a.m. for the transportation committee and the other at 1:30 p.m. for combined Senior Center Board and Nutrition Site Committee. Our area director Charlie Briggs and Nutrition Site Specialist Marla will be here.

We want to clear up any confusion about who is welcome to come into our center for meals or for coffee hour or other activities. This is to make clear that anyone of any age, not just seniors are welcome. The official age for seniors is 55, but others may also come to the meals etc. The suggested donation for those under senior age is $2 for lunch; coffee time is free-will. This center is for seniors and friends of seniors whatever their age.

Another gift, an authentic antique "libary table," was given us last week by Fay Page.

The Adventures of Grazelda & Clem...
(After Hours)
6:00 a.m. - 11:00 p.m.

Grazelda gushed out; "Say, Big Clem, how about shootin on down to Miller's Mini Mart & Chevron, and fetchin some gas and oil. I'm gonna start up that weedeater and get rid of all those weeds!"

Clem chirped; "Thats just great Grez, where are you gonna start so I can rake up the mess behind you?"

Grazelda pondered; "Oh let's see, I think I'll start in the bedroom, then go to the bathroom, and then the kitchen!!"
